Canton bans self-service gasoline

By DARLENE STINSON

CANTON—Self-service gasoline stations have become taboo in Canton Township with passage of an ordinance controlling handling and licensing of flammable fuels.

The board of trustees Tuesday passed the ordinance by a 6-1 vote with Trustee James Poole dissenting. The ordinance was passed as an "emergency measure" with immediate effect.

Supervisor Robert Greenstein introduced the new ordinance, drafted by township attorney Bert Burgoyne, to the board. The ordinance was prompted by Meijer Thrifty Acres' attempt to construct a self-service station on its land.

"Besides being bad planning, since there's another gas station right next to them, the question has come up about a self-service gas station on Meijer's land," Greenstein said. "We've found they've gone by the time officially granted to them to build, and their building permit is no longer valid.

"The true purpose of this ordinance is to absolutely discourage self-service gas stations in Canton Township," Greenstein said. "The need for the emergency measure is for Meijer's and others who are requesting this."

Under provisions of the ordinance, all persons who pump gasoline at a location where 1,000 gallons of fuel or more are stored must obtain a license from the township after taking an examination for proficiency and knowledge of appropriate safety measures. Persons who now work at stations have 90 days to comply with the licensing requirement.

The ordinance destroys the economic feasibility of self-service stations, Greenstein noted, since all customers would have to hold licenses.

"I think we have an inherent right to control inherently dangerous activities," the supervisor said. "Anything could happen with a person pumping his own gas. He could have a cigaret in his hand or anything.

"It's pretty obvious gasoline stations are trying to cut costs," Greenstein added. "All they want to do is pump that 70-cent gas in your car and to hell with you."

The ordinance contains other safety provisions. The township fire chief must approve safety features of a station's site plan, before a building permit is issued. No person shall store more than 1,000 gallons of fuel without an inspection and OK from the fire chief.

Poole, who voted against the measure, asked if it were right to punish every station owner and attendant in the township.

"I don't think it's a burden," Greenstein said. "I would like to know that a man pumping gas knows what he's doing.

"A lot of communities are searching for a way to control this pest known as the oil company," he said. "We believe we've found a method to stop the oil companies from forcing the self-service station into the township."

Burgoyne, Greenstein added is studying another ordinance proposal that would prohibit the construction of gas stations without service areas.

That ordinance is prompted by a lawsuit filed against the township by Boron Oil Co. concerning the planning commission's site plan denial of plans to build a gas-and-go station on Michigan. Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman Friday ordered the township to approve Boron's plans, according to Greenstein.

The township has not yet decided to appeal the decision, Greenstein said. An ordinance prohibiting the construction of stations without service areas could help this or future cases.

Greenstein said numerous stations now exist in the township but few provide mechanical services.

"That's the first shoe dropping," Greenstein said of the ordinance approved Tuesday night. "You'll soon hear the other."

TAKING ADVANTAGE of Canton Township's free garden plots at Warren and Lilley Roads are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Camp. This is the second year the couple have planted a vegetable garden, this year's planting including cabbage, corn, tomatoes and onions.(Staff photo by Maurie Walker)

Plots still available

CANTON— "You name it, and we got it," said Canton resident Keith Camp, as he gazed at his garden plot at Warren and Lilley. "It's costing us $10 at the most, and we'll have all the vegetables we need, if the weather holds out."

Camp is among hundreds of Canton residents who are planting tomatoes and green peppers and corn and lettuce on plots of township-owned land.

"More than a few" of the plots are still left at a 40-acre site on Warren between Sheldon and Lilley, according to township Clerk John Flodin. Persons interested in planting a garden on that site should contact the township fire hall or township offices, 44508 Geddes.

The plots are 25 by 50 feet, and township personnel have plowed, disked and staked them for free. If any plots are left after June 2, township residents may obtain additional gardening space.

The township will provide portable toilets and a recreation area at the garden sites this year, according to recreation director Brenda Pollack. A bulletin board will be provided at the recreation areas to keep gardeners aware of aid and information available from the Wayne County Extension Service.

The gardening program, now in its second year, will provide more than 1,000 plots this season. A 20-acre site at the corner of Warren and Lilley is already filled, according to Flodin.

"There are still plots left," Flodin said, "but the reaction has been great."

Canton Township resident Ralph King is enthusiastic.

"This is a great thing for people," he said. "It takes me away from a lot of my other work, but it sure is fun."

Schools will lower debt retirement levy

PLYMOUTH—"A yes vote on both millage proposals on the June 9 ballot will still bring a reduction of .41 mills for property owners in the Plymouth schools."

That was the word Supt. John M. Hoben learned this week as the State Tax Commission has moved to reduce the debt levy in the district by .47 mills because of increases in the total property value in the district.

'In effect, what will happen is that voters will be able to approve the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 mill in additional funding for the operating budget and still receive a tax rate reduction. This will come through a .40 mill safety millage and the .47 mills in debt retirement which will not be levied in the coming school year," Hoben said.

When school officials in Plymouth began painting the financial picture for the district earlier this year, they felt voters could accept the notion of replacing the retiring safety millage and a smaller chunk of the debt retirement millage with funds for the day-to-day operation of the district.

In effect the Citizens Election Committee had been telling residents that a yes vote for both millage proposals would leave the total tax rate unchanged.

With the recent action of the tax commission, however, voting yes will leave residents with a lower tax rate.

According to Hoben, the increase in total property value, or State Equalized Valuation (SEV) for the district has increased by $84 million in the past year, putting the total SEV at nearly $479 million.

While the superintendent was happy with the news of the reduction in the debt retirement millage because of the increased valuation, he said the increases will have just the opposite effect on the amount of state aid the district will receive.

During the current school year, Plymouth received approximately $197 per student from the state. With the increased SEV, projected figures are $144 per student during the 1975-76 school year.

According to Hoben this will mean a loss of approximately $500,000 in operating funds for the district, based on current enrollment figures.

"With this loss in state funds and other increases from inflation and contractual obligations, it's important that we have both the 5.15 mill renewal and the added .46 mills approved by the voters," Hoben said.

Board refuses to reconsider 45-15

PLYMOUTH—Miller Elementary School will have a year-round school program beginning in July.

Voting 5-1 against a motion to reconsider the previously approved 45-15 program, the Plymouth school board has insured that the program will begin on July 14, as scheduled.

Discussion by board members followed more than an hour of arguments in opposition to the program by parents in the Miller School area in Canton Township.

Their arguments remained basically the same as had been presented to the board over the past two months.

Opponents argued the problems of lack of support for the program by parents. Some residents felt not enough planning has gone into providing recreation during the four breaks for students during the year, while others complained of what they call the arbitrary nature of the decision.

The board reviewed the results of a survey of the Miller area, prepared by Mrs. Judy Utermark, which found 32 per cent of the parents opposed to 45-15, some 29 per cent in favor of the program, and 39 per cent who did not respond.

The only parent to speak in favor of 45-15 was James Slusser, who spent more than 30 minutes outlining some of the successes and failures of the 45-15 program throughout the country.

Slusser said there are currently two million students in 28 states who are involved in a year-round school program and cited two examples of what he felt are successful systems, and added explanations for two 45-15 programs that have been considered by some to be failures.

"The success of 45-15 will require co-

Mother Nature kept fire, police and public works departments busy around Plymouth, as well as Canton and Plymouth townships over the weekend.

Trees toppled in several areas around Plymouth, wires were down and flooding hit many basements and streets.

Ken Vogras, head of the city's DPW said trees fell on two houses, one at 452 Maple where the 36-inch diameter tree demolished the front of the house, and one where an 18-inch diameter tree hit a house at Liberty and Mill. Two others blocked streets, one on Beech between Harvey and McKinley and one at Church and Adams.

Canton has 'police' force

CANTON—Canton Township has an new official police department, but it neither has funds nor men—except for Supervisor Robert Greenstein.

The board of trustees Tuesday unanimously approved the establishment of the Canton Township Police Department in name only and named Greenstein its chief.

The action was taken at Greenstein's recommendation to avoid a possible rule change concerning the establishment of new police departments.

THE BOARD'S action "will allow the township to take advantage of the current rules' grandfather clause, should townships in Wayne County lose the Sheriff's Road Patrol suit.

The current rules say a certified police department can be established with three uncertified officers or four or more certified policemen.

Under the grandfather clause of the current rules, the township could hire three uncertified officers on an emergency basis, Greenstein said. Those officers could receive certification at the end of a seven-week period.

4-year college idea opposed

By TIM RICHARD

Schoolcraft College faces growth problems, but the two-year community college shouldn't become a four-year, bachelor degree-granting institution.

That was the consensus of five candidates seeking two seats on the college board of trustees. They spoke and answered questions on the same platform for the first time last week before the Livonia Republican Club.

Missing not only that appearance but an invitation from Livonia Interested Democrats was the sixth candidate, attorney Jerome Harris.

The questions about limiting college growth and becoming a four-year college came from the audience. Here are the candidates' answers in the order in which they spoke:

HARRY GREENLEAF, a Ford personnel man, said Schoolcraft is planning for a 20 per cent growth in credit hours in the near future. The college will "grow some yet," he said.

Greenleaf is best known to the political world as chairman of the 2nd Congressional District-Wayne Republican organization. He has a degree from Rensellaer Institute.

RICHARD HAYWARD, executive vice president of Freedland Structural Steel, said "the philosophy of the school is to take care of the needs of the community. Those needs will change.

"The way it's set up, it can't become a four-year school," he added.

Hayward has a background in the Livonia Hockey Association and is a member of Toastmasters.

ROBERT CADOTTE, an attorney and Manufacturers Bank vice president, said college enrollment "has no upward limit other than financial. Its philosophy is to provide education for all eligible students.

"We can't put on an artificial limit to enrollment. I wouldn't want to expand it to a four-year institution."

Cadotte has been a member of the Schoolcraft College Foundation board of directors for seven years.

MARK McQUESTEN, an insurance office manager, said the limitation on enrollment is buildings, adding: "I don't want to meet the needs of students by sacrificing quality."

McQuesten said there is a price to pay with the "satellite campus" concept now being explored, and the price is "lack of familiarity among students and lack of an exchange of ideas."

McQuesten, a student activist in his days at Schoolcraft, called for a new "Walden Woods II" conference between faculty, students and administration and a review of the quality and hiring practices of part-time faculty.

RON COWDEN, seeking re-election to the Schoolcraft board, was unable to attend the GOP meeting because of program commitment in the Livonia School District, where he is an assistant superintendent.

In an interview afterward, Cowden said he would have answered that a decline in enrollment will eventually affect the college, but its impact may be lessened by programs for senior adult community groups.

Under an agreement with Wayne State University, Cowden said, Schoolcraft would provide the first two years of education toward a bachelor's degree and WSU the last two. "But I don't want to see a big, university-type campus at Schoolcraft."

Kids' fish derby date is changed

The kids' fishing derby on Newburgh Lake has been pushed back two weeks to Saturday, June 21, but its sponsors promise it will be bigger than ever.

The date change was made to avoid conflicting with bicycling activities on Hines Parkway. The contest is open to boys and girls, competing together, from ages 6-16. It begins at 7 a.m. and runs to noon, although contestants may begin or stop any time in that period.

Joining the tournament as co-sponsors this year are the cities of Northville, Dearborn Heights, Farmington and Farmington Hills. Other sponsors as usual are the cities of Livonia, Westland, Garden City and Plymouth along with the Western Wayne County Conservation Association.

GRAND PRIZE for the largest fish will be a gas outdoor barbecue grill worth about $150 and donated by Viscount Pools.

The largest bluegill will bring the skilled angler a three-man inflatable raft from Gell's Sporting Goods.

The largest bass is worth an electric outboard trolling motor from Livonia Tackle.

Other prizes will be awarded for the largest fish in these species: Rock bass, channel catfish, northern pike, sunfish, crappie, bullhead, goldfish (golden carp) and carp.

The boy dressed most like Tom Sawyer and the girl most like Becky Thatcher will receive prizes.

Any youngster who catches his or her limit of 25 panfish will receive a prize. Only offshore fishing with natural baits is permitted.

ALL CONTESTANTS must register before beginning to fish. A station will be set up near the lakeshore along Hines Parkway just west of Newburgh Road.

To save valuable fishing time on derby day, you may register in advance by sending a post card to the contest chairman: Hank Chruscial, 19345 Brentwood, Livonia, Mi. 48152.

Just state your name, age and address along with the statement that you wish to enter the derby.

The derby is an annual event guided by the Western Wayne County Conservation Association. It generally draws several hundred youngsters who catch several thousand fish.

Honoring those who died to preserve America's freedom

PLYMOUTH—It didn't rain on our parade. It rained in the early morning, it rained in the later afternoon, but Plymouth's annual Memorial Day parade came off without a sprinkle.

Throngs lined Main Street from Church to Kellogg Park, the line of march, to witness a colorful event featuring The Plymouth Centennial Educational Park marching band along with bands from Central and West middle schools.

There was a color guard followed by the Grand Marshal, Gerald Olson, of Passage- Gayde Post 391 of the American Legion.

Vito Simonetti, a member of the American Legion for more than 50 years, served as honorary parade marshal.

Following the parade, ceremonies were held in Kellogg park where a Michigan State Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams addressed the crowd.

Williams praised Plymouth for its "sense of community spirit which is missing in many places these days."

The former governor of Michigan added a bit of humor to his talk when he praised "some of my fellow judges for attending the ceremony.

"I don't know how they find time to be here with the heavy work load there is in the court rooms today," he said.

Master of ceremonies for the observance was Fred DeLano, an editor of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

Invocation was presented by Lt. Dallas Raby of the Salvation Army while the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Plymouth Mayor Beverly McAninch. The traditional reading of "Flanders Field" was given by CEP marching band member Ken Martinek.

"America" was sung by the Middle School choir under the direction of Laura Wallace.

A wreath, honoring veterans who died in service of their country, was placed at the Plymouth Rock by Cmdr. Gary Kubik, of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6695 and Cmdr. Bob Finley of American Legion Post 391.

The traditional Taps was played by Harry Krumm, bugler of VFW Post 6695.

A volley salute, consisting of three rounds fired into the air over the Plymouth Rock, was offered by the VFW drill team.

PAYING TRIBUTE to those who fought for our freedom brought crowds to downtown Plymouth for the annual Memorial Day Parade. Ceremonies included the mournful cry of taps by bugler Harry Krumm, a walking Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams, and marchers of all shapes and sizes, from Brownies to bandsmen. And, of course, little boys like Craig Barnhart needed a little help from dad to get a peek at just what was happening.

Endres retires from Symphony

A new director will conduct members of the Plymouth Youth Symphony through bars and sheets of music next fall.

H. Michael Endres, who has served as full-time director since 1969, has submitted his letter of resignation because of other musical responsibilities.

Endres said he has recommended another music teacher in the Plymouth Community School District to serve as his replacement. The Youth Symphony's board of directors has not yet approved his recommendation.

Endres is leaving the Plymouth Youth Symphony because of commitments to other orchestras. As director of the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park Symphony Orchestra and conductor of the Westland Civic Orchestra, Endres says he cannot devote as much time as he would like to each of the three groups.

"It was a decision I had a difficult time making," Endres said. "It's an important link with the school orchestra program."

The Youth Symphony was founded with a grant from the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra to give junior and senior high school students an opportunity to play with a larger orchestra than each individual school could support. The orchestra incorporated as the Plymouth Youth Symphony Association in 1970, and by-laws and a board of directors were formed.

The 60 to 70 members of the orchestra, composed mainly of seventh though 10th graders from the Plymouth Community School District, perform three main concerts each year and stage one or two supplementary performances.

Each student pays annual membership dues of $10 to support the director's salary, a Youth Symphony scholarship program, and field trips orchestra members take.

"It does perform an important roll in the school district," Endres said. "As the system keeps growing, the Youth Symphony provides an opportunity to get all the kids together."

Endres, 34, has taught music at the middle and high school level in the Plymouth Community School District since 1965. He currently teaches orchestra and music theory at the Centennial Educational Park and directs small ensemble groups.

Endres holds bachelor of arts and master's degrees in music education from the University of Michigan.

a rule change that would require the employment of 20 certified police officers to establish a certified police department, according to Greenstein.

"WE ARE NOT establishing a police department at this time to protect the township, but to grandfather us in on the old rules," Greenstein said. "There's no intention to fund the department or hire officers. The cost to Canton of 20 officers is prohibitive."

Officials fear the township may have to establish a police department, if seven townships in Wayne County lose a court suit which maintains that the county should fund the road patrol.

"We're operating under the threat of the loss of the Wayne County lawsuit," Greenstein said. "It's unthinkable to me that Canton Township would be unpoliced, even for a 24-hour period."

GREENSTEIN SAID certified police officers from four surrounding communities have agreed to work in Canton on an emergency, moonlight basis should the townships lose the road patrol suit.

Board members named Greenstein police chief, so the township would not have to hire a chief to establish an emergency police department.

and others cluttered Riverside Cemetery," Vorgras said.

The DPW was also kept busy putting up barricades in areas where Edison lines were knocked down.

FIRE CHIEF George Schoenneman said his department was busy during Sunday evening's storm, answering calls where wires had been knocked down.

Canton Township's fire chief, Mel Paulun, said his department responded to 14 alarms Sunday.

"A normal Sunday is five or six alarms," he said.

Fire Chief James Gignac of Plymouth Township said his department had 11 runs over the week, slightly more than the six to eight for a normal weekend.

"We received two false alarms, responded to some cases of flooding and had several cases of fallen wires," Gignac said.

operation on everyone's part. If we eliminate the program now, we will have arbitrarily eliminated a possible solution for school growth problems," Slusser said.

"I don't want to see residents of this district dig deep for money to build schools that will have empty classrooms in 10 years."

Trustee Gary Mirto was the only board member seeking a reconsideration of the program. "I would simply say that it's wise to reconsider 45-15, because of the way we have gone about it. Its procedural implementation has been lacking."

Gathering roadside litter is daily job for county

"IT'S ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE," says Carl Piscopink surveying the roadside north of I-94 in Canton Township. (Photo by Art Emanuel)

By W. W. EDGAR

Stroking his chin and shaking his head at the sight, Carl Piscopink, district supervisor for the Wayne County Road commission, said, "Unless you see this, you'd never believe it."

He was standing at the Lilley roadside watching his crew of six husky men gathering litter running the gamut from empty beer cans to broken beds, worn out stoves and refrigerators.

"There was a time, not too long ago," he said, "when we used one group of men for two weeks after the last snow to clean up the litter. Now, would you believe it, we have a road group every day of the year when there is no snow on the ground."

TO MAKE matters worse because of the tight budget given his department under contract to the state many of these "foot soldiers," as the litter collectors are called, must be taken off road repair work to do a job that really shouldn't be necessary, he said.

"Few people realize the cost of this litter problem, but it runs close to $100,000 in our district which includes Canton Township, Westland and Garden City. Of this amount, $60,000 is charged for labor and the remainder for the rental of equipment."

Piscopink contends the public's laxity about litter is more responsible for the increased load than the greater number of cars.

"I never have seen conditions as bad as they are today. When you see beds, stoves and refrigerators tossed into ditches along the road, you know it is the people's fault. And this is something beyond our control.

"Of course, if we catch the litterers, they are reported to the police. But most of the time we are stuck with the job of cleaning up."

PISCOPINK'S CREW of six covers about 1.5 miles of roadside daily, collecting about 10 cubic yards of trash.

This is only the start. The litter-beer cans, papers, bottles and broken bits of furniture-is put into large plastic bags and left on the roadside for truck pick-up.

What aggravates Piscopink is that the trash is thrown into the high grass and scarcely can be seen by the public. But it's got to be picked up because at grass-cutting time it could ruin the leased machinery.

"People have just become very lax and with that 'don't care' attitude, there is no telling just how bad it will get before the summer ends."

The State Highways and Transportation Department expects to spend a record $1.75 million on litter collection this year and less than 40 per cent of the sum will be spent on picking up loose stones, tree limbs, dead animals and other debris that might be hazardous to traffic.

"The cost of cleaning up after litterbugs is difficult to reduce," said Joseph F. Gravac, the highway departments' maintenance chief. "Every single piece of trash is picked up by hand. All the mechanical devices we've tested so far have proven unsatisfactory."

Volunteer help needed at SC

Volunteer help in the reading laboratory and writing concepts center at Schoolcraft College is needed during this spring and coming summer sessions.

Retired volunteers have been assisting the college through the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) during the fall and winter semesters.

Additional community volunteers, however, are needed now to help test students during orientation sessions through the summer.

Volunteers are needed in the reading center on Tuesdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 7-10 p.m. Following the testing of students, volunteers help with clerical procedures such as scoring, recording and filing test results.

The writing concepts center, part of the English composition program, also needs volunteers on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to noon through June.

Hours and number of days may be arranged by calling Betty Andrews in the community services office on campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

255 jobs available at county

WAYNE COUNTY—Residents of Westland, Garden City, Plymouth, and Redford and Canton townships are eligible for the 255 summer jobs sponsored through a federally funded program by the Wayne County Office of Manpower.

Livonia residents are ineligible for the county program because a similar program is sponsored by that city.

Participants must meet the criteria of the U.S. Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) and will be paid $2.50 per hour for a 40-hour week.

CETA criteria stipulate that applicants must be between the ages of 18-29, but high school graduates may qualify at age 17; and must be a recently discharged veteran or high school graduate, or currently be enrolled in a college, university, business or trade school.

Economically disadvantaged applicants must be given preference under the CETA regulations.

Interested persons should contact R. Repko at the Wayne County Office of Manpower, 1150 Griswold, 2400 David Stott Building, Detroit 48226.

The 255 jobs will be divided among three program components:

- A total of 65 persons will perform general park maintenance work for the County Road Commission from June 9 through Aug. 29.
- There will be 150 jobs as office workers, library and recreation aides in various county agencies during July and August.
- A special drain project in Van Buren and Sumpter townships will require the work of 40 student assistants during July and August.

Treasure hunters to journey to 'centennial dump' for fun

Rose City isn't a spot that springs to mind when you think of buried treasure.

It's not likely Capt. Cooke hid any chests of gold there. Nor would you expect to find sunken Spanish galleons.

Even so, Rose City will be the destination this weekend of a group calling itself Michigan Treasure Hunters and whose membership comes largely from this area.

Their hunting tools are electronic metal detectors and they'll explore an abandoned loggers' camp, a site where folks homesteaded back in the 1800s and a onetime dump dating back 100 years.

Rose City is ready to welcome the hunters, too. Merchants have donated more than 200 gifts to be given away as prizes. A sheriff's posse will lead the group to the old logging camp. A police escort will be provided to other treasure sites.

"WHAT WE expect to find are such things as old tools used by the lumber people, old lumber, maybe some old coins and bottles and that sort of thing," said Al Temple of Plymouth, one of the group's founders. "What we expect to have is a lot of fun."

Headquarters will be Graceland Ballroom, built in the 1920s by Detroit's old Purple gang, according to Temple. It has a 1,500 person capacity, dance floor and bar and will be the scene of a flea market, woodchopping demonstration and magic show as well as the place to buy hamburgers and pizzas.

Most of the treasure seekers plan to arrive Friday evening to be on hand for a Saturday morning "token" treasure hunt. Each token bears a number corresponding to a number on a merchant-donated gift which the token's finder wins.

Michigan Treasure Hunters is a comparatively youthful organization born in informal conversation in the spring of 1974.

To check out local interest, Bill Kennedy put a notebook on the counter of his Plymouth store where folks interested in such a group could sign up.

The first meeting drew a dozen people. Membership now is about 180 and includes residents of Plymouth, Livonia, Redford, Garden City, Westland and other Wayne County communities and as far north as Pontiac in Oakland County.

"We've had enquiries from as far away as Muskegon and Grand Rapids," Temple said.

Regular meetings now are held the fourth Tuesday of each month at the Livonia Senior Citizens Building, Five Mile and Farmington Roads. Meetings start at 7:30 p.m. The next meeting is May 27.

Membership is $5 per year for either a single membership or a family.

"IT'S A family hobby," Temple said, "and for campers and non-campers. We try just to have fun and make new friends."

The metal detectors cost from about $50 for a good beginner's set to about $300 for top-of-the-line, according to Temple. They explore for metal buried two to four feet.

No one really expects to make any "millionnaire" finds, although there have been some both interesting and valuable.

Dick Foster found a 1965 Plymouth High School class ring while treasure hunting and is trying to locate its owner.

Vern Rowe of Plymouth came upon a 530 pound chunk of pure copper in northern Michigan with an estimated value of about $400.

But most of the hunters seek a return more valuable than money. Writing about the coming Rose City outing in the club's last newsletter, Rowe said:

"All treasure is not found with a dector some of us may find during this outing that meeting new friends and just taking in the scenery that the Creator and Mother Nature have bestowed upon us is a greater treasure than you will ever find with an electronic device."

County OKs summer jobs for youths

WAYNE COUNTY—A $1.4 million summer employment program for out-county youths which could provide nearly 2,000 jobs, has been authorized unanimously by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Teens in Redford Township, Garden City, Westland, Plymouth, Plymouth and Canton townships are eligible for the program. Those from Livonia are ineligible for the county program because the city receives direct federal grants.

AT THEIR MAY 15 meeting, the commissioners approved using $1,421,826 of federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds for summer work projects that include:

• Continuation of the annual Rouge River cleanup campaign which will provide 100 jobs for eight weeks at $2.10 per hour and 30 jobs for 17 weeks at $3.85 per hour for youths over 18.

• Continuation of the County Drain Commissioner's yearly drain cleanup which will employ 50 workers for eight weeks at $2.50 and $3.85 per hour for youths over 18.

• Repetition of last summer's Intermediate School District program for disadvantaged youngsters expected to employ 1,400 between ages 14-18 at $2.10 per hour for various cleanups this year.

• Initiation of a project of the County Office of Manpower to hire 150 student assistants between 18-29 at $3.85 per hour for general clerical duties.

• Initiation of a program still in preliminary stages for the parks division of the Wayne County Road Commission to pay 152 workers $2.50 and $3.85 per hour for general maintenance and groundskeeping in the county park system.

The Intermediate School District program is especially for the severely disadvantaged. Youngsters in this program must meet federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) poverty guidelines allowing a maximum of $5,050 for a non-farm family of four, with adjustments for larger and smaller families scaled accordingly.

PARTICIPANTS in other programs must be CETA eligibles, but not necessarily disadvantaged by OEO standards. Those who are, however, will be given preferential treatment.

Besides regular CETA qualifications, applicants for the Office of Manpower Student Assistant program must also be recently discharged military veterans and high school graduates or be enrolled in a college or university.

Those in these jobs will be placed in various county departments, and are acceptable up to age 29.

Applicants for the intermediate school district program should telephone 278-3222 in the City of Wayne, and those interested in positions with the other projects should call 224-7160 in Detroit for screening information.

Over the past two years, CETA has provided Wayne County nearly $6 million for the jobless and tentatively has allocated another $5.5 million for 1975, from which this summer program is financed.

The program is likely to be expanded if Congress allocates Wayne County an additional $1 million as is expected before summer's end.

A FULL YEAR without a single compensable industrial injury at Robins Printing Co., 13305 Wayne Road, Livonia, merited a safety award from the company's insurance carrier, Sentry Insurance. Arnold Martin (left) presented the award from his company to Robin's safety manager Enver Riza and Robert Robins, secretary-treasurer.

PART OF THE PICTURE

Complete facilities are important in funeral service, of course . . . and our new facilities on Six Mile Road were built with this in mind.

But they're just part of the picture.

To our way of thinking, the people who serve here are the most important part. They provide the understanding and concern that funeral service is all about.

At all our locations, you'll find that the completeness of our service equals the completeness of our facilities.

Haven't you longed for an escape from the strangeness of a modern world filled with cold plastic and hard-edged chrome?

Come back now two hundred years. Our Pennsylvania House Bicentennial Collection recaptures that time. You are looking at some of the greatest designs in the entire history of furniture.

There's the Queen Anne highboy, for example—looking like a treasure handed down for generations. Or the block-front lowboy, whose beauty might have graced a whaling captain's mansion in 18th-century New England.

Each of these designs is as rich in American history as America itself. And the impressive American Legacy finish—specially created for the Bicentennial—reflects the elegance of our country's historic homes.

Let our Pennsylvania House Bicentennial Collection take you home. The way home was yesterday. The way it should always be.

Health problem increasing among homosexuals; declines for 'straights'

By DENNY COFFMAN

A dramatic increase of venereal disease among male homosexuals has surprised officials of the Wayne County Health Department and sent them searching for reasons for the phenomenon.

According to John Dun, public health representative at the County Health Center, Westland, 63 per cent of all cases treated at the facility between January and mid-May of this year have involved "gay" males. For the same period last year, gays accounted for only about 30 per cent of the case load.

At the same time, there has been a reduction in the number of instances of venereal disease among heterosexuals, or "straights," during the period. This year, 352 cases of gonorrhea were treated; last year, 452. The center treated 45 cases of syphilis so far this year, but treated 68 last year.

"Maybe it's just that the heterosexual cases have dropped in number," says Dun, "and therefore gays account for a higher percentage. At any rate, there seems to be an increase in gay venereal disease in recent months."

BUT DUN points out that the "mechanics" required for gay sexual relations may be a reason for the proliferation. Anal sex, which he terms fairly common among gay males, is especially conducive to the transference of disease. By contrast, no case of venereal disease has ever been reported involving female gays.

Inasmuch as there are three cases of VD among all males, both gay and straight, for every two cases of VD among females, the risk of contracting VD when both partners are males is extremely high, according to Dun.

"It affects a cross-section of the community," says Dun, "from the unemployed right up to executives."

ANOTHER reason he cites for the rise in gay male VD is the apparently casual sexual activity among gay males. Exposure to many contacts frequently, but fleetingly, increases the dangers.

"Gays tend to have more variety and more anonymous partners," says Dun. "What contributes to the incidence of VD is not the amount of sexual activity, but rather the amount of activity with different partners."

The center provides free examination and treatment for gonorrhea ("clap") and syphilis.

Gonorrhea is considered easier to contract, because it has a very short incubation period, often less than 24 hours. Its germs are parasites, living off the warm moist membrane of rectum, mouth, eyes or sexual organs.

Syphilis has an incubation period ranging from 10-90 days and its effects are more devastating: insanity, paralysis, bone destruction, heart failure, blindness, nerve deafness and skin ulcers.

"Both require physical contact for transmission from one person to another," says Dun. "Sharing a swimming pool or drinking fountain or toilet seat won't do it."

More homes, smaller families

By TIM RICHARD

Families are getting smaller in western Wayne County.

More single persons are moving out of their parents' homes and into their own pads.

And some communities which are losing population are actually gaining in the number of occupied housing units.

THESE PATTERNS emerge from the new report of occupied dwelling units, available this week from the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG). The figures trace the growth of people and housing units from the official census date of April 1, 1970 to July 1, 1974.

Here is a town-by-town rundown of growth:

•Canton Township exploded in terms of people, but family size changed little in four years. Canton grew from 11,026 persons to 29,600, or 169 per cent, and from 3,261 occupied dwelling units to 8,800, also about 169 per cent. The number of persons per dwelling dropped only slightly, from 3.38 to 3.36.

•Garden City lost population—from 41,864 to 40,200. But the number of dwelling units increased from 10,482 to 11,000, an increase of five per cent. Family size dropped from 3.99 to 3.65.

•Livonia showed a leveling of population from 110,109 in the base year to 109,500 last year, an insignificant 0.6 per cent loss. But dwelling units rose from 27,686 to 29,900, or an even eight per cent. Family size dropped from 3.97 to 3.66.

•The City of Plymouth lost nearly five per cent of its population, from 11,758 to 11,200, while housing units rose in almost the same proportion, from 3,762 to 3,930. Thus, family size dropped from 3.12 to 2.86—an overall average of less than one child per houshold.

•Plymouth Township showed a population rise from 17,497 to 19,400, or 10.9 per cent. Dwellings increased from 4,909 to 6,000, or 22.2 per cent. Family size declined from 3.56 to 3.23.

•Redford Township had the biggest percentage population drop as numbers fell from 71,901 to 67,400, or 6.3 per cent. Yet dwelling units increased from 19,759 to 20,000, about 1.2 per cent. Family size slipped from 3.63 to 3.37.

•Westland continued to grow in population—from 86,749 in the census year to 93,600 last year, or 7.9 per cent. Housing units leaped from 23,046 to 28,000 in the same period, for a 21.5 per cent jump. Average family declined from 3.76 to 3.34 members.

College people have key roles in seminar

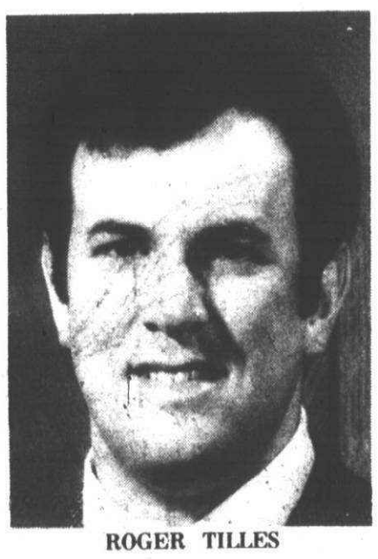
Luncheon, at $4.25 per person, will be served by the college's culinary arts department. There are no other charges for those attending the seminar.

Registration will be in the liberal arts building between 9 and 9:30 a.m. Morning panelists will be devoted to women in today's society and to senior citizens' activities.

Afternoon panels will cover solutions for personal economic problems, alternative methods of financing education, and city, township and county services.

The college is at 18600 Haggerty between Six and Seven Mile roads in Livonia.



ROGER TILLES

Tilles to speak

A panel discussion on "Alternative Methods for Financing Education" will feature State Rep. John Markes (D-Westland) and Roger Tilles, a member of the State Board of Education at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, May 31, at Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Other panel participants include State Sen. Jack Faxon (D-Detroit), Keith Geiger, president of the Michigan Education Association, and Gerald Dunne, executive secretary of the Michigan Association for Improved School Legislation.

Exhaust emissions tests offered free

A free exhaust emissions test, designed to promote greater fuel economy and cleaner air, will be offered to motorists traveling on I-96 near Novi Sunday, June 1.

The free tests will be conducted by volunteers from the telephone industry and from the Michigan Wolverine chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America, an employe community service group.

THE VOLUNTEERS will man a free test site from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the eastbound I-96 reststop west of Novi.

"We'll be performing 'quickie' emissions tests to let motorists know if their cars are wasting valuable fuel and polluting the air," explains Les Fineout, ecology chairman of the Michigan Pioneers.

The test process is relatively simple and takes only about three minutes. An electronic analyzer is inserted into the exhaust pipe to measure the amount of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide being emmitted.

The test equipment is on loan from Michigan Bell and is regularly used to test telephone company vehicles. If a car is emitting an excessive level of pollutants, the tester will provide a list of adjustments to correct the problem.

"Properly adjusted engines mean not only cleaner exhaust emissions but better performance and gas mileage," says Fineout. "A simple tune-up can boost gas mileage more than eight per cent."

BASED ON a recent study by the vehicle emissions check committee, about four billion gallons of gasoline could be saved each year if the more than 100 million cars in the nation were kept properly tuned.

An explosion of litter

It's time to pronounce the obituary of the environmental movement.

There are a few scientific types still worried about overpopulation and food resources. . .we still have city and county road crews cleaning things up. . .but the deep concern among young people seems to have burned itself out.

There are two kinds of evidence.

One is our own observations in the neighborhoods of these suburbs. Every morning there seems to be a fresh trail of beer and pop cans along subdivision streets. Maybe we're getting old, but the litter problem seems to have exploded just this year.

The other evidence is the observation of other people. We heard and received a lot of comments—mostly negative—about the littering by young people in the recent Walks for Mankind.

It seems ironic that what was designed to be a project for young people to help others less fortunate than themselves should have backfired so badly in environmental terms.

A fellow we know would like to assassinate the manufacturers of Brach's candies, that brand being the most frequently discarded wrapper in his neck of the subdivision.

Back in the early '70s, when the ecology movement had burst into flower, the Jaycees sponsored cleanup drives on the Middle Rouge River. One remark made by a youngster at that time struck home. As he unloaded a sack of tin cans he had collected, the young man swore: "I'll never throw away another can or wrapper again."

The Rouge cleanup drives are no more. The Jaycees decided they had made a sufficient dent in the problem; the river was flowing more smoothly with long-standing obstructions having been cleared. So the Jaycees went on to other projects, and no one can blame them.

But with the end of that effort went an end to the sensitivity training about litter the kids had received. It's true: Once you clean up someone else's junk, you are forever after cautious about your own mess. Now that military draft calls are down, the young men will less often hear the sergeant's cry: "Police the area!" That source of sensitivity training will be lost.

Pass more laws? They won't work. There are already laws on the books. Besides, it's impossible to put a policeman on every front yard and on every acre of parkland to hound the kids.

Despite what the lawyers say, we are not a government of laws; we are a government of people. Unless people decide they want clean cities and parks and subdivisions to live in, then we are doomed to piles of litter.

For the general mass of people, then, the time has come to say "rest in peace" to the environmental movement of the early '70s.

With an animal problem, you called Mae Kocher

Another area institution passed from the scene with the death of Mae Kocher last weekend.

For over 25 years she was the Birmingham Humane Society.

When she started her work there was a county animal welfare society, but it split up and she took over the Birmingham-Bloomfield area.

The purpose of her local organization was to discourage cruelty to animals, but with her love for dogs and cats she found herself in the lost and found business.

YEARS AGO when one of our pups would be missing we'd call the various police departments and veterinarians and they'd always say, "Have you checked with Mrs. Kocher?"

After a while we'd by-pass officialdom and call her direct when we had a problem and she was always ready to help.

Her operation was non-governmental. It had no shelter nor pound.

She operated out of her Karmel Korn shop on East Maple in Birmingham and the only funds she received were the few donations grateful animals owners sent in when she helped them locate their missing pet.

CONSIDERING THE time, money and energy she put into her work, her only real compensation

Eccentricities

by HANK HOGAN

was the knowledge that animals were somehow better off.

She was completely devoted to her work. I've seen her out in neighborhoods on rainy nights helping people to find their stray pets.

She encouraged people to call her because if the county pound found the dog first, the animal had to be destroyed if the owner did not show up within 72 hours.

SHE HAD a knack for finding animals because she seemed to know which females were in heat in various neighborhoods, or that old dogs returned to their childhood home when they got lost.

Her passing will be a real loss because in the last few years she was a one-woman operation. There is no way a government-run organization will be able to replace her devotion to the cause of helping animals.

Think of that candidate as a hard civic worker

Tim Richard writes

They won't get certificates of merit from civic clubs. They won't get much courtesy from the taxpayers once it's over. They will be forgotten rather quickly by historians.

And so it falls to this space to pay homage to those who gave of their time to run for local bards of education.

It's unfashionable, of course, to say anything nice about politicians, and school board candidates are certainly politicians, whether or not they admit it.

But if you think about it, politics is like any other form of civic endeavor—a service club, beautification groups, scouting or whatever. Someone has to believe in the cause; someone has to do a lot of work to make it go.

ONLY TWO candidates in a typical school board race will win, if getting elected to a school board can be called "winning."

The "winners" will get about the same pay as the losers—usually nothing. They'll be hit by voters with a lot of personal problems they can do nothing about. They'll have to wrestle with public problems that are rigidly controlled by state laws, city assessment practices and massive social movements that no one seems able to control.

People who show up at school board meetings customarily have an axe to grind and have no qualms about waving that verbal axe at the board members. And that is just the fate of the winners.

THE CANDIDATE in general can expect to give up most of his free evenings from May 14 (filing deadline) to June 9, when it's over.

He can expect to hear his name mispronounced a dozen times as he's introduced.

He may have been involved in school activities for years, but he will be asked to sum up all of it in a three-minute answer to the question: "What will you do for the more effective operation of our school district?"

In a tough year—that is, when there is a controversial issue—the candidate can expect to be asked, and be judged on, his answer to a special interest group's single question.

The special interest groups may be teachers unions, a particular school with growth pains, or a militant anti-tax group—it doesn't matter. When the candidate meets them, he is not free to talk sense; he is only free to tell them what they want to hear or suffer the consequences.

If he appears at several candidates' nights, he must endure the pain of listening to competing candidates make the same speeches over and over, taking consolation only in the fact that they must listen to him, too.

NOT ALL candidates merit general admiration. Some file their nominating petitions and disappear into the woodwork. They don't do their homework. They appear to audiences only long enough to be introduced, then skedaddle for a funeral or an obscure relative's wedding, thus denying the public a chance to ask questions and find out how mentally drab they are.

And be sure to vote for your candidate on June 9. One of the most disheartening things to a serious candidate is not so much getting beaten but in knowing that so few voters even bother to go to the polls.

Save time, vote 'yes' first

Editor:

I read with interest last week two letters to the editor in favor of passing the upcoming Livonia School District millage question.

However, the passage that caught my eye said: "Teachers will be eliminated, class size increased, student activities such as sports, drama, art and music will be reduced or eliminated." These are the same words we hear each and every time a millage renewal or increase comes along.

Then if the citizens have the audacity to reject it, we hear the same words louder and more often until another "election" can be held. The truth is: The millage will pass; it's only a question of when. First time? Second time? Third time, maybe?

The school board has all sorts of money for holding special "elections," and they will eventually scare enough voters into their fold.

And so, I submit we all vote "yes" and save everyone the time, money and frustration of seeing the democratic process made into a sham.

W-W millage 'a small price'

Editor:

I encourage all voters in the Wayne-Westland School District to vote "yes" on the school millage issue June 9. I think all the additions and improvements proposed are necessary at this time.

I'm especially in favor of renovating Jefferson School since I have two children in attendance there. It's actually quite a small price to pay for the numerous rewards that will result.

Broadcasts needed

Editor:

A mimeographed form was in our mailbox recently, and it sends us into a panic. (The form supports religious program broadcasting for the benefit of the sick and elderly and praises the astronauts for reading the Bible from their spacecraft.) We are retirees, and Sunday morning on TV is our "church" as it is with many of our elderly friends.

There is nothing on the form to tell us what church distributed this, so I cannot contact them to ask what else they are doing to spread the word to people like ourselves. Therefore, I am doing what little I can asking for help in the event they have not already contacted you.

Because of arthritis, a lot of elderly people have difficulty writing a letter, but they would somehow get the form filled out and mailed to get their support into the hands of those trying to ban religious broadcasts.

We just can't let this happen! We need the Sunday services, just as millions of other people like ourselves who do not or cannot attend church regularly.

MRS. LEONARD SMITH, Livonia

EDITOR'S NOTE: The addresses are: Federal Communications Commission, 1919 M Street NW, Washington, DC 20036; and National Aeronautic & Space Administration, Manned Space Craft Center, Astronauts' office, Houston, Texas 77058. In our experience, signing pre-printed forms or "canned" letters has nowhere near the impact of an original letter.

Don't toss out God

Editor:

Who besides me is sick of Madeline Murray O'Hair? Her recent demands for public censure of the astronauts' Bible quoting and a further demand to prohibit further demonstration of religion by public leaders are being touted by press and TV nationwide. "Toss it out," she says.

God has a different view for cleaning up nations. He speaks in II Chron. 7:14, "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Shades of eternal conflict! Way back in Genesis 3:1, the serpent, in casting doubt on God, entices Eve, "Yea, hath God said...?"

Madeline, your priorities are showing. But where are ours?

ERA 'drastic, unnecessary'

Editor:

Re your article on Audrey Perry's talk on the Equal Rights Amendment at Schoolcraft College: Ms. Perry says "it doesn't take ERA to have a draft, nor does the amendment state it wants women drafted."

Does she really think that intelligent women can be fooled by such illogical talk? A special amendment to the ERA (the Wiggins clause), which would have preserved women's exemption from the draft, was deliberately stricken from ERA because of the agitation of militant women's libbers. ERA doesn't say women must be drafted—it just says Congress may not exempt girls if they are forced to draft boys. Congress will have no choice in the matter.

ERA will permanently outlaw any law which benefits women as a class. When women become equally liable for for family support or alimony and child support in the case of divorce, the result will not be a bonanza for men but crushing disappointments for young mothers, middle-aged and especially senior women, who will be forced to accept equal financial obligations.

Ms. Perry is also engaging in illogical double-think on the subject of homsexual "marriages." She says that the states will be able to decide whether homosexual couples should be able to "marry" and adopt children in spite of the fact that section 2 of ERA gives enforcement power to the federal Congress and courts, not to the states. Colorado has an ERA in its state constitution, and homosexual couples are coming from miles around to be "married" there. Under equal rights, "persons" marry "persons," without regard to sex.

Without any positive arguments in favor of this drastic, unnecessary amendment, it is not surprising that ERA proponents have been reduced to wishing out loud that we women who are working against the ERA would just stay home and let our husbands dominate us. As long as ERA remains a threat to our important women's rights—not a chance.

ELAINE DONNELLY, Michigan Chairman, Stop ERA Committee, Detroit

A beautiful business

Editor:

This is a letter of praise. As a resident of Livonia, I have been most pleased and surprised to see the development of the mall on the northwest corner of Seven Mile and Merriman roads.

Pleased because such a handsome and thoughtfully designed commercial center will grace our city; surprised because the mall reflects some concern with aesthetics too often missing in business areas. Although it is small and still incomplete, it already reflects some concern with taste.

The owners of the mall and members of the city planning commission deserve congratulations for helping to prove that a little care can create a pleasant environment to shop in and an oasis of attractiveness. Here is proof that our city needn't be victimized by poor planning and the plastic commercial architecture that dominates so many commercial centers.

I hope this newest mall will set the trend for future commercial and public buildings.

Perhaps there will be an opportunity for the Livonia Arts Commission to work with both the planning commission and zoning board to encourage greater attention by builders to aesthetic considerations that will enhance the quality of our life and help defend Livonia against the blight of blandness and aesthetic blindness that plagues most American cities.

MARILYNN M. ROSENTHAL, Livonia

Tips on how to interpret dreams

We all try to live our lives in an orderly, rational, logical way. Often we hide our deepest fears, prejudices, desires and frustrations from even ourselves.

Emotions which conflict with our logical thoughts are often suppressed and relegated to our subconscious minds and not allowed to surface in our conscious thinking.

But when we sleep, the deeply emotional, primitive subconscious part of our being takes over and manufactures the dreams which express what we cannot or won't face during our waking hours.

LIKE THE primitive people, our primitive minds use symbols to express what we really feel and believe.

Each individual has experienced different things in his life and, therefore, each subconscious mind makes its own set of symbols. That is why each dream must be interpreted in accordance with the happenings in the life of the dreamer.

Record the same things about the dreams in the right column as you did about the previous day in the left column:

1. Environment — Where did this dream take place?
2. Characters — Who was in this dream with you?
3. Props — Here, list all the "things" that appeared in the dream, no matter how unimportant they seem to be.
4. Emotions — Record the emotions and happenings in the dream.

Don't try to interpret or study this as you go along, until you have kept it faithfully for some time. Then go back and read the day before, the dreams, the day after, the dreams, the next day, the dreams, and so on. You will begin to see patterns forming almost at once.

CERTAIN DREAMS follow or preempt certain happenings in our daily lives. We will begin to see what certain symbols in our dreams represent in our waking world.

Slowly you will come to know much more about yourself and your inner conflicts. Only through better understanding of ourselves can we ever begin to understand the others with whom we live.

Every dream we have, no matter how small or how insignificant it may seem, has a hidden meaning. It isn't always necessary to learn these meanings, for by the very act of dreaming it, we have released much tension.

If we can see and understand what our inner conflicts are, however, we can make a waking effort to reduce or eliminate them from our lives in the future.

(For help in interpreting your dreams, write Gundella at Box 434, Garden City, Michigan 48135. Please include a self-addressed stamped envelope.)

Legislature is 'pressure job'

Forty per cent of state legislators have high blood pressure according to recent findings by University of Michigan health researchers.

The U-M program for community blood pressure recently checked the blood pressures of three-fourths of the state lawmakers and found four out of 10 had elevated blood pressure.

"The fact the legislators took part in a screening program, however, is good news," says Ernest Harburg, PhD, program director. "It puts them an important step ahead. Most persons with hypertension don't know they have a disease and therefore cannot seek treatment."

OF THE 40 per cent with elevated readings, about 25 per cent has true hypertension and the rest have borderline-high readings. All have been referred to their physicians for periodic checks and possibly medication.

Thirty-five of 38 senators and 79 of 110 representatives volunteered to have their pressures checked during the screening program staffed by the U-M School of Nursing at the Capitol to call attention to National Blood Pressure Month in May.

The project also spotlights a new, permanent statewide program centered at the U-M campus to bring blood pressure under control in Michigan.

HARBURG, a research scientist with the U-M School of Public Health, describes high blood pressure as probably the most neglected major health problem in the nation.

About one in 10 Michigan residents — or one million persons — have borderline or higher blood pressure. Statistically, he adds, the State Legislature is somewhat worse healthwise than the state population as a whole.

In the Senate, 46 per cent of those screened had elevated readings (borderline or true hypertensive). In the House, the figure was 35 per cent. Harburg defines hypertension as readings of 160/95 or higher and borderline-but-elevated as 140/90 but less than 160/95.

In the total Legislature, only 30 per cent are smokers, an encouraging statistic, says Harburg. In the Senate, 50 per cent smoke and in the House 25 per cent smoke.

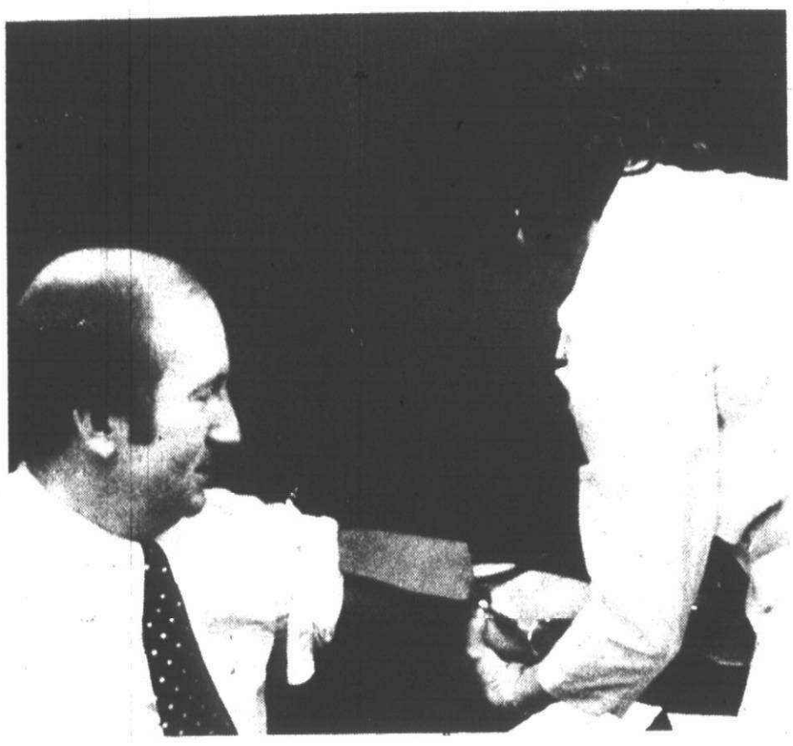
MICHIGAN'S LAWMAKERS also reflect a chronic problem of hypertensive persons. Many aren't getting effective medication or quit taking it under the false assumption their problem has been "cured."

Six of eight in the Legislature, who at one time had been treated for hypertension but had quit taking medication, still had elevated blood pressure at the screening.

"Hypertension treatment, to be effective, must be a life-long commitment," stresses Hamburg. "You must keep on taking medication if you want protection from heart and kidney disease and stroke."

Data on those legislators with hypertension has been referred to the registered nurse who heads the Capitol health office for follow-up checks.

The researchers are now correlating further data on the legislators which relates overweight and blood pressure. Funding for the program is through the Michigan Association of Regional Medical Programs.



STATE REP. JOHN MARKES (D-Westland), whose district includes part of Livonia, gets his blood pressure taken.

S'craft hopefuls back blend of career, arts

Should Schoolcraft College focus on academic or occupational training?

What kind of education should Schoolcraft College provide? Should the emphasis be on academics or vocational training?

Five of the six candidates for the two SC board of trustees posts up for election June 9 agree there should be a blend of liberal arts and career education.

The sixth candidate, Jerome Harris of 16844 Shrewsbury Court, Livonia, failed to keep his appointment for an Observer & Eccentric interview. Harris also was not present for Livonia Republicans and Livonia Interested Democrats meet-the-candidates sessions.

Although all of the candidates are from Livonia, voters in the Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City, Clarenceville and Northville school districts are eligible to cast ballots.

WHILE ALL agree Schoolcraft should provide two-year academic preparation appropriate for university transfer, most also feel that enough emphasis cannot be put on training students for available careers.

Most also urge a closer complementary alliance between high schools and the college, and view remedial courses at SC as necessary for unmotivated high schoolers.

In fact, although the differences between the candidates on SC's educational focus are slight, they do exist.

RONALD COWDEN of 15577 Westbrook says both career and academic preparation should be offered at SC. While the trend toward more career training is evident, he feels liberal arts courses should be required of students in vocational programs. English and literature courses are necessary, he feels, to enlarge a student's horizons.

Public schools should play a larger part in career education, Cowden believes.

Schoolcraft is ideally suited to offering courses on a flexible basis, he adds, "It can offer career programs immediately, by dropping and and adding courses, based on what business and the community needs."

He also says SC should provide remedial courses for its students. "A lot of students, until they have to pay for a course, don't get serious. They don't realize where their inadequacies are. It's a matter of their level of maturity."

HARRY GREENLEAF of 35936 Pinetree says that while the emphasis in occupational programs is to train an individual to do a job, "I don't think we should forsake or overlook liberal arts.

Schoolcraft should serve vocational as well as academic interests where it should "provide a curriculum that stands up to transfer" to a four-year institution.

"Liberal arts is not quantitative but qualitative. There should be programs to expose vocational students to 'big ideas.'"

Greenleaf is emphatic about remedial courses. "A good many students not prepared in language and arthimetic capabilities should not be denied the opportunity to go on. They are good potential students."

RICHARD HAYWARD of 17159 Loveland agrees both academic and occupational needs both must be served. There must be preparation for a two-year transfer to four-year colleges, he stresses.

Those in vocational technology should have enough background in the arts to have a salable skill and also have the background to pursue education on their own.

"There's a difference between schooling and education Education is a lifetime process."

Vocational education should be fully integrated with constituent districts' high schools, Hayward says. By a student's junior year, he and his counselor should have worked out a program of high school courses that, with two more years at SC, will insure the student of a job. The college should also keep tabs on the job market and, if the market is saturated, drop a course and start something else, he says.

"It would be a disservice if Schoolcraft didn't maintain remedial programs. This is a community college. Kids can make mistakes and be misguided," Hayward says.

A third part of Schoolcraft's educational program, Hayward stresses, is community service, providing academic credential courses to upgrade businessmen's skills. He says the program should be similar to Wayne State University's College of Lifelong Learning.

MARK McQUESTEN of 28940 Lancaster says, "The community demands a career curriculum and that's where the conflict occurs. Schoolcraft has to meet those needs but I don't want Schoolcraft called Voc Tech. There is too much lost in a society where we don't have arts and politics. The absence of knowledge will be our downfall."

McQuesten feels Schoolcraft excells in many areas such as culinary arts, nursing, and occupational therapy and should maintain its leadership position.

High schools and Schoolcraft should get together and provide a smooth transition for students. For some students, although not the majority, Schoolcraft provides grades 13 and 14 and too many go to Schoolcraft for refresher courses, he says. "Maybe the quality of high school education is not high enough.

"The role of Schoolcraft is to stimulate the community to think about itself."

ROBERT CADOTTE of 30125 Grandon gives a balanced view of Schoolcraft's educational role.

"The value of a liberal education, if nothing else, is to permit an individual to live a fuller life. On the other hand, an important problem of living is that one must put bread on the table. Neither facet should be overlooked."

Some liberal arts courses should be required of vocational students, he feels, such as English, literature, math, religion and political science.

Schoolcraft should provide remedial courses to students "who for one reason or another, probably related to maturation, do not adequately challenge themselves in high school and do not take courses for college entry, but who at age 19 or 20 or later, realize they should complete their educations more fully."

At the same time, it is "appropriate for a community college to be a bridge" to a four-year college, Cadotte says.

WANDA WYSOCKI of Livonia has been named the Automobile Club of Michigan's purchasing department manager. Mrs. Wysocki, who lives at 36679 Vargo, joined the club as a secretary in 1958.

Top teams are true to form in Southfield baseball district

By TOM SCHRAM
Sports Editor

The 1975 high school baseball tournament has run "true to form" thus far for Observer & Eccentric teams and it will be Plymouth versus Livonia Saturday in Southfield district action which will pit three of the top four O&E teams in a battle to move on to regional action.

Saturday's pre-district action in the Southfield district saw Plymouth Canton, rated first in the area and in the state, down Southfield 4-0; Plymouth Salem, rated third in the area, edge Northville 4-1; Livonia Stevenson, rated fourth in the area, down Livonia Bentley 4-2, and Livonia Franklin whip North Farmington 12-3.

Franklin is now 12-14 and is a definite underdog in the district which should be among the most competitive in the state. Any further advancement by the Patriots would have to be termed definite upset material and would qualify the squad as a true "Cinderella team."

Canton, Salem and Stevenson, however, have been consistent winners this year and if any of the three survives the afternoon doubleheader, it will have to be counted as a factor in the state tournament race.

SALEM — NORTHVILLE

Salem went to its ace hurler, Tom Willette, against the Mustangs and the Rock "money man" came through with a three-hitter, striking out 15 and walking four.

Salem scored individual runs in the first, second, fifth and sixth innings and stranded seven for the day.

Tim Dillon went two-for-three and drove in a pair and Vern Nagel also had two hits and two RBI's.

Batteries: Northville — BOLAND and White. Salem — WILLETTE and Nagel.

NORTHVILLE	000 100 0 – 1-3-1
SALEM	110 011 x – 4-5-1

CANTON — SOUTHFIELD

Bill Parson struck out 10, walked only one and shut out Southfield on two hits to advance Canton.

Brian Stemberger scored on Tom Close's double in the first to give the Chiefs all the runs they would need and Stemberger doubled in the third to drive in two more.

The other Canton run scored on an error in the fifth.

Batteries: Canton — PARSON and Close. Southfield — Wieland and Antonucci.

CANTON	102 010 0 – 4-8-3
SOUTHFIELD	000 000 0 – 0-2-2

BENTLEY — STEVENSON

Livonia Bentley battled from behind twice to tie the game but Livonia Stevenson rallied for two runs in the decisive sixth inning to take a 4-2 state baseball victory Saturday and advance to next Saturday's regional semifinals.

Stevenson scored first in the bottom of the opening inning when winning pitcher John Kolis, Rob Rose and Tim Murphy all singled.

Bentley tied things for the first time in the third when Dan Dinsmore, who had walked and moved to third on Glen Stevens' single, scored on a wild pitch.

Stevenson pulled ahead in the fourth on Jim Snyder's triple to right-centerfield and a wild pitch.

But Murphy doubled in the bottom of the sixth and Dave Pelly and Snyder followed with long triples to wrap things up for the Spartans.

Kolis struck out four and walked two en route to his eighth victory in 10 decisions for the Spartans who will now play top ranked Plymouth Canton Saturday at 12:30 p.m.

Batteries: Bentley — NALEPKA, Murphy and Hodges. Stevenson — KOLIS and Pacion.

BENTLEY	001 001 0 – 2-6-1
STEVENSON	100 102 x – 4-8-1

N. FARMINGTON — FRANKLIN

Livonia Franklin scored seven times in the first inning and went on to take a 12-3 baseball victory over North Farmington and advance in the state baseball tournament.

Tim Hollandsworth, Mark Saia, Joe Pollard and Mark Waterstradt all hit RBI singles in the first inning and Steve Tresik and Sam Williams each unloaded doubles, with Williams driving in two.

Waterstradt, Hollandsworth, Tresik and Darrell Gunter each came up with two hits for the Patriots who now stand at 12-14 on the year.

"We have five starters batting over .300 and only one is a senior," said Franklin coach Ron Hellier who expects to be a factor in the Northwest Suburban race next year.

Batteries: N. Farmington — WASHINGTON and Biaridi. Franklin — WATERSTRADT and Pollard.

N. FARMINGTON	003 000 0 – 3-8-4
FRANKLIN	702 300 x – 12-12-3

ST. AGATHA — ST. LADISLAUS

Redford St. Agatha tallied four times in the first inning and went on to take a 7-2 state baseball tournament pre-district victory over Hamtramck St. Ladislaus Saturday in a game played at Redford Union.

The Aggies will advance to a Saturday morning encounter against Hamtramck St. Florian at Detroit's Manns Field.

Ron Jess went the distance for the Aggies, recording seven strikeouts and four walks.

Jess had the big hit of the game in the first inning rally when he drove in two with a triple to center. Dave Mully had an RBI double that inning and drove in another in the fifth with a sacrifice fly.

Jim Merritt drove in two with a fourth inning single.

Batteries: St. Ladislaus — KOTULSKI, Kreshner and Knoblack. St. Agatha — JESS and Beyrand.

ST. LADISLAUS	100 001 0 – 2-5-2
ST. AGATHA	400 210 x – 7-8-2

BISHOP BORGESS — COOLEY

Bishop Borgess jumped to a 3-0 lead and held on to defeat Detroit Cooley 3-2 Saturday and advance in Class A baseball tournament action.

Borgess will now play Detroit Catholic Central Saturday morning at Butzel Field in Detroit.

The Spartans tallied once in the first on Gary Mulka's single and Ken Knasiak's triple.

Dale Paige's bases loaded line drive to rightfield drove in two more in the third. Knasiak, who was on first on the play, hesitated on the drive and was forced at second, robbing Paige of a hit, but the play gave Borgess all the runs it would need to advance.

Cooley tallied two unearned runs in the fifth.

Mark Gergel took the win for the Spartans to up his record to 7-3.

East, RU advance, West out in Dearborn district

By JIM BRADLEY

Garden City East and Redford Union are still alive in the Dearborn district of the state baseball tournament after winning Saturday while Garden City West was ousted, 3-1, by the host team.

East got by Dearborn Heights Annapolis and its ace pitcher, Gene Mastroeni, 4-2. The Panthers of Redford Union rode the stingy three-hit pitching of Dan Bushart to stifle Dearborn Edsel Ford, 5-1.

So, there's a definite chance it'll be the Panthers vs. the Panthers in the championship game. The Redford Union Panthers meet Cody Saturday at Dearborn High immediately after the Garden City East Panthers battle host Dearborn High at 10 a.m. The winners then meet in the district finals at 3 p.m. with the winner advancing to the Southfield Regional.

Annapolis, expected to go pretty far because of its pitching strength, sent ace Mastroeni against East Saturday but Tod Kleinbrook out-dueled his opponent for the win. Mastroeni, who fanned 19 River Rouge batters on Monday, including the first eight, brought a 9-1 record into the game. Annapolis jumped into the lead in the first inning when Ray Fortier singled and took second on a misplay of a pick-off attempt. He romped home on Jeff Switzer's single.

East tied it in the second. Joe Becszlko, Bob Hudson and Greg Emery singled to knot the count. A two-strike bunt on a suicide squeeze by Britt Ponte in the third sent the Panthers in front, 2-1. Kleinbrook led off with a single and Brad Lackey ran for him. Two mishandled bunts loaded the bases with one out. After Ponte had swung and missed two times, Coach Billy Joe Young flashed the bunt sign and the senior dropped down a perfect tap to score the racing Lackey.

"Britt is probably the best bunter on our team and when he couldn't bring in the lead run by swinging, I felt he could still bunt with two strikes on him. He did a beautiful job," Young praised.

Annapolis tied it 2-2 in the fifth when catcher Plas Fernandez singled, took second on a sacrifice and rode home on Alex Robertson's single.

East, now 18-4 on the season, settled the issue in the two-run fifth when Kleinbrook walked to open the inning and Krol bunted him along. Jeff Edgar, who's hit close to .400 all year, came through in the clutch with a rip up the middle to score Kleinbrook and Edgar took second on the throw home. When Joe Becszlko's grounder went through the Cougar second baseman, Edgar came on to score.

Bob Hudson pitched the final two innings for Garden City East and slammed the door on any Cougar aspirations. East catcher, Britt Ponte, is a firm believer in 'thou shalt not steal' as the veteran backstop cut down five of six Cougars trying to pilfer second base.

Batteries: Annapolis - Mastroeni, Taylor (5), and Fernandez; East - KLEINBROOK, Hudson (6) and Ponte. ANNAPOLIS 100 010 0 - 2-3-2
G.C. EAST 011 020 0 - 4-6-2

Redford Union — Edsel Ford

Coach Bob Atkins' surprising Panthers of Redford Union continued to play well Saturday as they advanced to the semifinals of the Dearborn district of the state tournament with their 5-1 win over Dearborn Edsel Ford.

Dan Bushart fired a tough three-hitter, two hits coming in Edsel's run-scoring fourth, in running his season record to 5-0.

Meanwhile, his mates were pounding out 13 hits and making fielding gems to claim the win.

"Nobody expected us to do much this year," Atkins explained after the win, "but the boys are playing their hearts out and we now have a 14-8 record, much better than most people thought. And we're just a game behind Plymouth Salem in the Suburban Eight League race."

Ted Ackerman ignited the Panthers' offensive arsenal with four hits and three RBI's. George Willard, Dough Lowney and Bushart each rapped out two safeties.

Ackerman scored the game's first run when he singled and scored on Willard's two-bagger in the third.

Edsel's last gasp came in the bottom of the fourth when the Thunderbirds knotted the score on Tim Wancha's single, Allen Johnson's bunt and Jack Rankin's RBI single.

Consecutive doubles by Gary Stafford and Ackerman gave Union the go-ahead run in the top of the fifth, 2-1. Three Union runs in the sixth sealed Edsel's fate.

Bushart and Lowney singled to open the frame and Steve Schultz beat out a well placed bunt to load the sacks with none out. After Edsel's pitcher, Mark Stachurski, fanned the next batter, Ackerman rapped out his fourth hit to send home Bushart and Lowney with insurance runs and a 4-1 lead. Gregg Wood's shot at the third baseman with the bases loaded handcuffed the hot corner guardian long enough for Schultze to tally the final Panther run.

Two outstanding fielding gems highlighted Redford Union's defense. First-sacker George Willard made a diving one-handed catch in the Edsel fourth with none out and runners on first and second. He whirled immediately and his throw to Lowney doubled off the runner on second. The brilliant catch of the bunt saved a possible big Edsel inning as an error on a ground ball followed and the hosts scored their only run.

Then in the seventh, left fielder Gregg Wood sprinted full speed toward the left field line and speared a ball that was labeled extra bases.

Batteries: Redford Union - BUSHART and Campbell; Edsel Ford - STACHURSKI, Loss (7) and Johnson.

REDFORD UNION	001 013 0 — 5-12-3
EDSEL FORD	000 100 0 — 1- 3-1

Garden City West—Dearborn

Some attacks are ruthless and some are toothless.

Unfortunately for the Tigers of Garden City West, theirs was toothless.

Of course, Jim Vanderhull had a lot to do with extracting the fangs, stopping the Tigers, 3-1 on only two hits. Dearborn's big right hander was in control all the way and virtually untouchable as he fanned at least one batter every inning in setting down 10 on strikes.

Mark Sutherland toiled for the Tigers and allowed only four hits, but three came in the disastrous second inning when Dearborn combined three hits and a walk for two runs. The Pioneers added an unearned run in the third when a hit-batsman and two errors gave Dearborn its final run.

West's only run was a gift in the top of the sixth. Sutherland and Zoccoli both hit easy grounders which were bobbled by infielders. Dave Noonan, who looped a double in the first for one of his team's two hits, rammed a line drive into right field but it was grabbed above the head by the right fielder and Sutherland tallied after the catch.

Sutherland wound up with nine strikeouts, four in a row at one stage of the game, and held Dearborn hitless the last four innings.

Dearborn's catcher, burly Dale Mason, was 'stood up' on his date with Lady Luck. Mason slammed two drives into deep left field over Matt Shinsky's head, but Shinsky made sensational stumbling catches on both drives to frustrate Mason, who thought he might have a pair of home runs.

Batteries: West - SUTHERLAND and Zoccoli; Dearborn - VANDERHULL and Mason. G.C. WEST 000 001 1 — 1-2-3
DEARBORN 021 000 x — 3-4-2

Spartans grab 9-7 win

Livonia Stevenson grabbed an early 9-3 lead and managed to hold on while Spartan coach George VanWagoner substituted freely to take a non-league 9-7 baseball victory over Northville Monday.

Ray Waring went the first four innings to record the victory for the Spartans.

Stevenson started off with four runs in the top of the first as Rob Rose was hit by a pitch, Tom Pacion and Tim Murphy both doubled and Jim Snyder singled.

Northville came back with two runs of its own in the bottom of the inning, scoring on a single and two doubles.

Snyder's triple down the right field line in the third scored Dave Pelly who had walked and Snyder came home on a passed ball as Stevenson raised its margin to 6-3.

The Spartans tallied three more in the fifth. Pelly singled and came home on Snyder's RBI double. Jeff Bond and Jim Treharne both walked to load the bases.

Tom Berger smashed home runs in the fourth and sixth to lead the Northville attack.

Stevenson is now 11-6 on the year.

Batteries: Stevenson — WARING, Palmisano and Pacion. Northville — BERGER and White.

STEVENSON	402 300 0 – 9-7-6
NORTHVILLE	201 103 0 – 7-9-2

Area prep baseball roundup

MILFORD — STEVENSON

Livonia Stevenson scored four runs in the first inning and went on to take an 8-3 Inter-Lakes League win over Milford last week.

Jim Snyder's bases-loaded double and Jim Treharne's home run were the big blows in the first inning rally.

Snyder picked up two more RBI's with a fifth inning double.

John Kolis got the win to up his record to 8-2.

Batteries: Stevenson — KOLIS and Proctor. Milford — HUBBARD and Steinkopf.

MILFORD	010 010 0 – 3-1-3
STEVENSON	600 020 0 8-8-5

REDFORD UNION — DEARBORN

Redford Union suffered what coach Bob Atkins called its "toughest loss of the year" last Friday when it dropped an extra inning 6-5 Suburban Eight contest to Dearborn.

A victory would have given the Panthers a tie for the league lead with Sub 8 champs Plymouth Salem at that point.

Howard Copeland, Gary Stafford, Ted Ackerman and Rich Campbell all strung out hits with two outs in the fourth for four runs, giving RU a four run lead at that point, but Dearborn rallied for four runs of its own in the seventh and went on to win in nine innings.

Batteries: Redford Union — COPELAND, Ackerman and Campbell. Dearborn — ZAPARANUK, Zimmerman and Mason.

REDFORD UNION	100 400 000 – 5-9-2
DEARBORN	010 000 404 – 6-9-3

CANTON — JOHN GLENN

Sophomore pitcher John Young took his third win in as many decisions Tuesday as Plymouth Canton demolished Westland John Glenn 12-4.

Steve Morman, Keith Randazzo and Bob Ayotte all had perfect days at the plate as everyone played for Coach Fred Crissey's top state ranked Class A squad.

Glenn actually led 1-0 after two innings, but the Chiefs scored three times in the third and nine times in the last two innings to win going away.

Batteries: Canton — YOUNG and Close. Glenn — ROBERTS, Daniels, Butler and Hicks.

CANTON	003 005 4 – 12-14-1
GLENN	010 000 3 – 4-6-4

THURSTON — CATHOLIC CENTRAL

Redford Thurston ripped Detroit Catholic Central 5-3 Friday to raise the Eagles' record to 14-8 on the season.

Dave Ribick took the win for Thurston with relief help in the fifth from Dave Hofelich.

Ribick is now 4-1 on the season.

Thurston scored three in the first on a hit batsman, a walk and singles by Dennis Kuschel, Mitch Drozdowski, Brian D'Ascenzo and Dan Hunter.

Hunter and Kuschel each also singled in the Eagles' two-run third.

Batteries: CC — KLEIN and Scanlon. Thurston — RIBICK, Hofelich and Beebe.

CC	000 021 0 – 3-5-1
THURSTON	302 000 x – 5-9-3

DEARBORN — BENTLEY

Livonia Bentley wound up its baseball season Tuesday with a 4-2 victory over Dearborn in Suburban Eight League action.

Doug Murphy took the win in relief of Kevin Keeney to even his record at 3-3.

Dan Dinsmore scored in the first for the Bulldogs on a walk and two Dearborn errors. Bentley tallied again in the second on Bill Moser's sacrifice fly which brought in Al Bolz.

The Bulldogs concluded the scoring in the sixth on Tom Schultz's RBI single and a double steal.

Bentley finished the year with an 8-10 record.

Batteries: Dearborn — ZAPARANUR and Mason. Bentley — Keeney, MURPHY and Hodges.

DEARBORN	002 000 0 – 2-5-2
BENTLEY	110 002 x – 4-4-1

EDSEL FORD — SALEM

Dearborn Edsel Ford handed Plymouth Salem its fourth Suburban Eight loss Friday, edging the Rocks 2-1.

Tim Dillon, the Rocks' centerfielder, was converted to shortstop for the game so Brian Wolcott could handle the mound chores and committed a crucial throwing error which gave Edsel Ford its go-ahead run in the fifth inning.

Salem had tied the game in the fourth on John DenHouter's triple to left-centerfield and Charlie Johnson's RBI single.

Batteries: Edsel Ford — SCHMIDT and Johnson. Salem — WOLCOTT, Thomas and Nagel.

New DRC area makes racing a family affair

June will bust out all over for Michigan thoroughbred racing fans this weekend as Detroit Race Course salutes its most exciting month by welcoming children under 12 and their families to its new picnic grounds.

The grassy area just north of the DRC grandstand will be equipped with all the fundamentals for an outdoor outing and will be called the "Family Paddock." The races will also be in full view. It will be open only on Saturdays and Sundays until school is out.

June is also the month of the $100,000 Michigan Mile and One Eighth, plus the $50,000 Frontier Handicap, the $50,000 Dowling Memorial and the $35,000 Michigan Oaks. A special "Quarter Horse Day" is carded for Sunday, June 15, with the 350 yard finals of the Great Lake Quarter Horse Futurity a feature of the afternoon.

DRC racing secretary Tom Dorsey got the pot boiling this week for Michigan Mile Day, Saturday, June 21. Dorsey reports that one of the first nominations for the classic came from the Indiana owners of Navajo, a big 5-year-old gray who raced in the 1973 Kentucky Derby against Secretariat and boasts 1975 earnings of $115,000 with seven victories in eight starts.

CRIMSON KING FARM'S Crimson Falcon, strong fourth place finisher in the 1974 "Mile" and recent winner of DRC's $15,000 Armed Forces Day Handicap is also an early nominee. The fleet son of 1963 Michigan Mile winner Crimson Satan has campaigned this spring at Oaklawn Park and Kenneland.

Entries on the first of DRC's big June stake races will close Monday. The Frontier Handicap, for Michigan-bred 3-year-olds and upwards, will be raced the following Saturday, June 7, at a distance of a mile and one sixteenth. Ace Commander's thrilling upset of the favored Kilfoil in the 1974 Frontier was typical of the stiff competition which comes annually in this state homebred event.

The Michigan Oaks, strictly for 3-year-olds, has been carded for Sunday, June 22, thus presenting a double-barreled attraction for "Michigan Mile Weekend." The Oaks will go at a distance of one mile.

The Dowling, another rich 3-year-old race for Michigan-breds, is scheduled for Saturday, June 28, at a mile and one sixteenth. This, too, was the scene of a giant upset in 1974. A 33-1 shot, Billy Onward, beat both favorites, Right Course and Frank's Fuzzy, for owner Robert R. Flynn of Northville.

The novel Quarter Horse Day at DRC will include a 10 race thoroughbred card, of course, but will also feature a quarter mile match race between a Michigan owned quarter horse and a Michigan owned thoroughbred, plus a colorful "Dinner Bell Derby." In the Dinner Bell young foals of 1975 will be released and the race is to their individual mothers stationed up the track.

DRC's new Family Paddock will help handle the expected heavy attendance of children on Quarter Horse Day. Admission prices to that area will be $1 for children under 12, $2 for all other family members, through the Family Paddock gate at the north end of the grandstand.

Will the grown-ups still be able to wager on the horse races if they wish? Of course! The picnic area will have supervised, easy-access "channels" to the nearby pari-mutuel windows.

Cycle races at Northville

Professional motorcycle racing returns to Northville Downs Saturday night when a 16-race American Motorcycle Association card will be presented ion the half mile oval.

WAYNE JONES SAYS:
Don't wait to do your landscaping because you don't know how! We will draw a plan for your home, and give you our expert advice on what to plant and how to plant it. We draw free plans to scale for our customers. Just bring in your house and lot dimensions and a picture, if possible. Your title survey usually has all this information on it. The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Rhubarb patch lasts a lifetime

Rhubarb is one of the best herbs you can grow. Once you get a patch started, it will last a lifetime.

The average family will get enough rhubarb from four to six plants spaced three feet apart.

Good varieties include McDonald, Canada Red, Victoria and Valentine. About the only requirement is that the soil be well-drained. Crown rot may develop if water stands around the roots.

Give your rhubarb patch a feeding in late June or early July, for good-sized stalks.

You've probably wondered what those rough marks are on the stalks. This is the work of the rhubarb curculio, a pest that bores into the stalks and lays eggs. Control consists of dusting the stems with rotenone or Sevin in May before the pest comes along. If the stalks are spindly or dwarfed, they may need feeding.

DRENCH the plant with a liquid plant food such as 23-19-17, or some 5-10-5, around the base (dry fertilizer should never be applied to the leaves–only liquid plant foods).

Cut off those seed pods just as quickly as you see them. Seed pods weaken plants. Roots or divisions are the best ways to start a patch, never from seed.

If pink stems turn green, blame it on too much shade. Plants like full sun for pink color. Green stems seldom turn pink, so if you want nice pink rhubarb, plant varieties with pink stalks.

When plants turn yellow and rot, it's called "foot rot" and not much can be done except dig up the plants and destroy.

PRETTY SOON you'll be wondering what causes the blossoms to drop off your squash vines. Don't worry about this. Squash and pumpkins produce five to 10 male blooms to one female, and only a small per cent of the female blossoms naturally develop into normal fruits.

The males and excess or unused female blossoms dry up and fall off, their romance gone forever.

Ever try making squash fritters? They're great eating. First pick the false blossoms (some vines have up to 20 males to one female). These "false" or male blooms can be distinguished from the female blooms, since the "she" blossoms have a small nub at the base, and the male flowers don't.

Pick plenty of male blossoms since nature was generous enough to produce an ample supply for pollination. Soak the blossoms in salt water to remove any insects; drain and dip in batter made from one egg, two tablespoons flour, salt, pepper and finely chopped parsley. Fry in cooking oil until brown. Let dry on absorbent paper and serve with meat. Makes a fine breakfast dish served with butter and syrup.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: "Is it true that if you drill a hole in a tree and insert aspirin tablets, it will help prevent disease?"

Answer: No, it won't help a bit.

The Stroller
The lure of a parade

—By W. W. EDGAR

What is there so magnetic about a parade that folks, young and old, will sit by the hour along a thoroughfare waiting for the marchers, keeping step to the band music, to pass?

What is there about a parade that even the mere mention of the word brings a gleam to the eye of many folks and they're ready to fall in line for a trek to the reviewing stand?

We got to talking about this on the reviewing stand of the Memorial Day parade in Livonia and while no one claimed to know the answer all agreed parades had fascinated them since childhood.

If you look about you'll note that few persons miss an opportunity to participate in or watch, a line of march regardless of the auspices of the procession.

It used to be that the Mummers Parade to usher in the New Year in Philadelphia was the major parade of the year. No more. No major event gets under way these days without the time honored mixture of marchers and musicians coming down the main street.

For instance, there's the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena on New Year's Day, that not only attracts thousands of persons who sit up most of the night to protect a choice seat, but draws millions more on TV. Especially because it can be picked out of the air in living color. It is a spectacle few persons want to miss. To many, the football game that follows it, seems secondary.

IT IS THE SAME with the Orange Bowl game in Miami, the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, and the Cotton Bowl in Dallas during the New Year holiday season.

The suburban communities and the small towns throughout the country look forward to the annual Memorial Day or July Fourth parades. The processions in Plymouth have become traditions and Livonia is fast building up major interest now that the Veterans Memorial stone is at the center of the city. This year's event surpassed any of its predecessors.

When speaking of parades The Stroller can't help recalling his baptism to these extravaganzas. As a boy he lay awake most of the night just thinking about the circus that was coming to our town. He wanted to be on time to watch the unloading of the cars and the erection of the tents. At the time he knew that part of the pay for helping would be free admission to the circus. But it came as a joyful surprise that he also was to be allowed to join in the parade. And what a thrill it was to ride atop one of the circus wagons and be part of "The Greatest Show on Earth."

Years later, when a new young men's lodge—The Improved Order of Red Men—was organized—he was quick to join for the simple reason that the "Tribe" staged a parade each year on Halloween.

To make it more attractive, the leader of the lodge, officially known as the "Sachem," was delegated to ride the white horse at the head of the procession. This was the main goal of The Stroller and the memory of the night he rode up the main street in the old hometown on the white horse is one that will live with him forever.

Then there were the torch light parades on election nights. These were hastily gotten together affairs, but never lacked enthusiasm—especially for the winning party.

IT WASN'T surprising when the Wayne County Bicentennial Committee announced recently that one of the features of the year long celebration would be the longest parade in history. Just how long it will be wasn't mentioned. But it will have to go some to beat the famed 1931 American Legion convention parade down Woodward Avenue that lasted more than 12 hours.

It was so big it attracted writers and photographers from the major newspapers and magazines in the country.

Bike trails planned under power lines

CANTON—Miles of potential bike, jogging, and motorcycle trails lie hidden beneath the corridor of steel Detroit Edison towers that span the township's middle.

Township officials are hoping to gain miles of additional recreational land from the corridor that runs north of Cherry Hill between Haggerty and Sheldon and turns south to Michigan Avenue.

Negotiations to lease the land are now under way with Detroit Edison, according to Supervisor Robert Greenstein, and a lease is expected "any day."

Under provisions of the lease, expected to cost the township $1 a year, the township will have to maintain liability insurance and mow the grass beneath the towers.

"It would open up miles of recreational land in the township," said Greenstein. "We'd probably use the land for a combination of uses, and it'll be a community project to made the trails. We hope to get it started as soon as possible."

Supervisors form group

Township supervisors in Wayne County are putting their heads together to form the Wayne County Supervisors Association.

Plymouth Township Supervisor J.D. McLaren says the officials have been meeting on an informal basis for years and now are formulating official by-laws and rules.

The Canton and Plymouth Township boards of trustees recently approved the annual dues payment of $100 to the new organization.

Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein says informal meetings with other supervisors have proved beneficial to him.

"I've found it a great help. When I have a problem here, I take it to the association to see how other people have handled it. If the problem never came up before, we put our heads together on it."

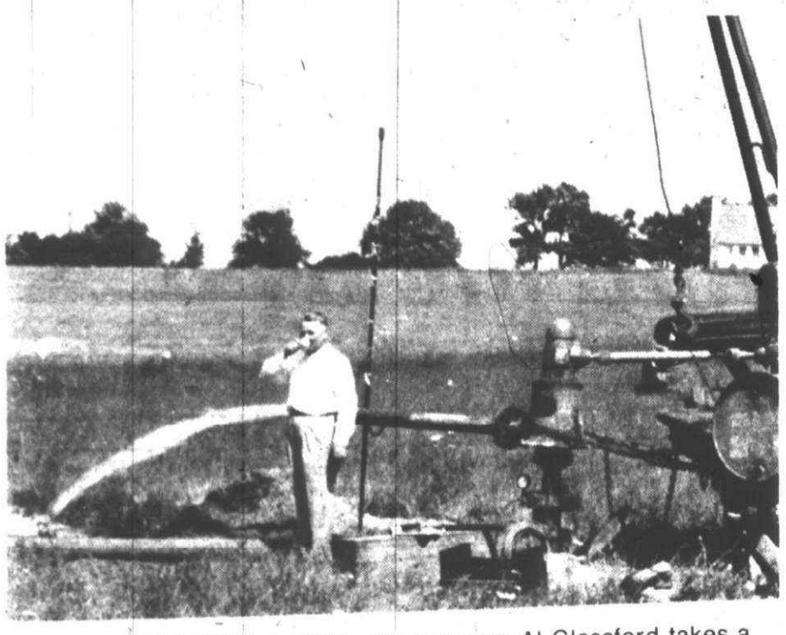
Some wanted to keep water system



AT A TEST WELL in 1954, city manager Al Glassford takes a sip of the "glacial stream" water. The added well increased the city's water capacity to seven million gallons per day. (Photo courtesy City of Plymouth)

PLYMOUTH—PAST AND PRESENT
by Sam Hudson

(Part II)

Many improvements and additions to the city's water system were made during the 78 years in which Plymouth provided its own water. The first had to be made only a year after the mains were installed, when it was found that the line was unsatisfactory.

"Plymouth has had the same expensive experience as Northville, which competent advice would have prevented," delcared a report written in 1906, when the village had a population of 1,663. "The sewer pipe is now being replaced with iron casing, which will swell the expense to near $50,000. The annual income is $2,200 to $2,300, and the expense of operating about $150, aside from the fire department.

"There are 10 miles of mains, 60 hydrants, and 300 service taps. The average pressure is 42 to 45 pounds. It is estimated that 75 per cent of the population use this water."

A BOOSTER pumping station, containing two centrifugal pumping units, was added in 1916 at a cost of $1,825. In the same year, a steel tank, holding 154,000 gallons of water, was erected in back of the Presbyterian Church at a cost of $7,880. A second elevated steel water tank was erected in 1947 off South Main Street, near Ann Arbor Road. The water level in this 250,000 gallon tank was coordinated with that of the first tank by means of mechanical controls.

In February, 1921, a concrete reservoir, with a capacity of almost 2 million gallons was built underground east of Sheldon and south of Six Mile Road, adjacent to what is now the Brooklane Par-3 golf course.

A bond issue of $75,000 was passed to pay for the improvement. The reservoir was built on a 2.81 acre site which the village had acquired in 1895 from Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Johnson.

IN THE SAME YEAR, an open well with a motor-driven centrifugal pumping unit was built.

By 1925, the flow from the well at the Northrup Spring was insufficient to meet the community's needs, so leads were placed into it, making collection of water from a wider area possible. Two other wells were also driven at the same property. A $40,000 bond issue was needed for the improvements made at this time.

After 1929, by resolution of the village commission, the cost of service of mains had to be paid for by owners of abutting property.

IN THE 1930's, wells were drilled in the Mill Street area, but the water was found to be unpalatable.

Chlorination came to Plymouth in the 1940's, when a unit for that purpose was installed at the booster station.

By 1954, the city's maximum production was about three million gallons per day. The city was then pumping water east as far as Newburgh Road, north to Cass Benton Park, west to Sheldon Road (with a few customers on Beck and Phoenix Roads), and south as far as Joy Road and down Canton Center Road about 1000 feet to a new school.

In the summer of 1954, when Russell M. Daane was mayor, consumption on several occasions reached the 3 million gallon capacity. Al Glassford, then City Manager, started looking for new sources of water and the City acquired a 10-acre tract in Northville Township, west of Beck Road and abutting Six Mile Road.

A NEW WELL was dug and was in daily use by 1956. Engineers said the well had a theoretical output of over four million gallons per day, bringing the total capacity of the system up to 7 million gallons per day.

Borchardt's 1964 report on Plymouth's water system indicated that it had grown in a random fashion. "Usually as emergencies arose a solution to the problem was found. There have been changes to the source, about six in number, over a period of 33 years or about one every five or six years on the average."

Professor Borchardt went on to say that the actual extent of the available ground water at the Six Mile or the Beck Road sites had never been adequately ascertained.

Borchardt's report appeared in February. One month later, on March 18, 1964, the "Plymouth Observer" reported that a well test at the Six Mile well field had been conducted the previous week by the city's consulting engineers, Johnson and Anderson, Inc.

THESE ENGINEERS informed the City Commission that the glacial drainage channel from which Plymouth got its water "could supply water to the city of Plymouth beyond the year 2000 without depleting the supply."

In spite of this favorable report, however, the increase in population, the water demands of industry, and the hardness of the local water eventually led to the decision to abandon Plymouth's own system in favor of water purchased from Detroit.

Oakway celebrates second anniversary June 4

The Oakway Symphony Orchestra will celebrate its second anniversary at the annual symphony society meeting, Wednesday, June 4 at 7:30 p.m. in University Hills Christian Center; Farmington Road near I-696.

New officers will be elected to the symphony's board of directors. Refreshments will be served, and a musical program is planned.

Only symphony society members are eligible to vote but all interested persons are invited to attend the anniversary gala.

The 85-member orchestra, under the direction of Francesco Di Blasi, has expanded its season schedule from four subscription concerts in 1973 to six for the 1975-76 season plus 12 non-subscription offerings.

The orchestra serves Livonia, Southfield, Farmington and Birmingham. Members range in age from 16-year-old Alyze Dreiling, a 10th grader, who plays second-chair violin, to Jacob Becker, 78, Oakway's principal cellist.

Di Blasi, who lives in Livonia, is a former trumpeter with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, conductor of the Michigan Grand Opera and Metropolitan Beach concerts, and assistant conductor of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra. He selected the orchestra members from more than 300 musicians who auditioned in 1973.

Concert band plays music to picnic by

The Garden City Adult Concert Band will present its annual "Music in the Park" Sunday, June 1 at 3 p.m. in the Garden City Park, Cherry Hill and Merriman roads.

The concert is free and presented in cooperation with the Garden City Parks and Recreation Department.

The concert will feature trumpeter Bill Abbott, who will play the Arban arrangement of "Carnival of Venice" with band accompaniment. The tune includes five variations of the basic theme stressing virtually all trumpet techniques.

Sunday's concert marks the park's third program and concludes the band's fifth season. The band is comprised of 10 metro west communities, under the direction of Dale Werner, music director in the Garden City School District.

The program will get under way with the rousing "March of the Steelmen" which features the trombone and trumpet sections.

Other numbers include highlights from "Show Boat," "The Sound of Music," "Sweet Charity," "Sabre Dance," and "Rolling Thunder."

They represent 85 years of religious life

By MARGARET MILLER

Eighty-five years in the religious life—all of it the result of early commitment—is evidenced in the careers of two Livonians marking milestones this spring.

Sister Mary Gertrude, a Felician nun who is business studies teacher at Ladywood High School, celebrated her 50th jubilee, and it was a 35th anniversary for the Rev. Ferdinand A. Wolber, pastor of St. Genevieve Church.

Both these stalwarts of the Catholic faith were sure as children they wanted the religious life, and to both its opportunities for service have brought deep satisfaction.

"I KNEW WHEN I was in grade school I wanted to be a priest," said Father Wolber, who attended classes at St. Elizabeth school in Detroit, Sacred Heart Academy for eight years, then Mount St. Mary Seminary in Norwood, Ohio.

He came to Livonia to found St. Genevieve in 1959 after serving in four other parishes and as a U.S. Army chaplain.

"I committed my life then to serving people," he continued, "and I would not trade one hour for any other kind of life. I enjoy being a priest."

SISTER GERTRUDE, for her part, entered the Felician Academy in Detroit on her way to the life of a nun because "I always wanted to dedicate my life to serving others, and I wanted to teach."

The teacher in the nun's habit, she feels, "can help young people come closer to God and educate them both spiritually and academically."

Born in Toledo, where she was taught in elementary school by Felician sisters, she began her religious life in 1925 and has been in a parochial classroom most of the years in between, teaching elementary classes at first and later business subjects in high schools. She came to Ladywood 10 years ago.

BOTH FATHER WOLBER and Sister Gertrude have noted great changes in the view of parochial and parish life in their years in Livonia.

The priest can remember visiting parts of his present parish when he was an assistant pastor of St. Monica in Detroit. When he came here, it was to begin the second Catholic church in Livonia. St. Genevieve parish once was part of St. Michael territory, and it since has seen itself divided with the formation of St. Priscilla.

Starting with 11 acres, Father Wolber led his parish to build first an activities center, then a convent, rectory, school and permanent church, "and all this was accomplished in eight or nine years."

AT ST. GENEVIEVE, Father Wolber said, "we've tried to move with Vatican II," and the 1,300-seat sanctuary was "built in that spirit, with the altar facing the people."

He notices changes in the parish's day school more than in worship. "At one time our school had 500 students," he said. "Now we're down to 250—there just are less school-age children in the parish boundaries.

"I'm in the position of letting other parishes, those without schools, know we can accept their children," he added.

SISTER GERTRUDE has been pleased with one of the big educational changes she has seen at Ladywood, the switch to modular scheduling.

"It gives the students proper preparation for college work," she said. "Teaches them to budget their time and become more self-reliant."

She helps teach organization, too, by having her students keep binders with pockets. "That way they have a plan for the day and know how to go ahead with their work," she said.

Sister Gertrude, who has degrees from Siena Heights College at Adrian and Wayne State University, may have behind her 50 years as a religious but she isn't retiring yet.

"I'm ready to go for another year," she said. "I'm really dedicated to teaching."

CHURCH BULLETIN

RIVERSIDE PARK CHURCH of GOD, 11771 Newburgh, Livonia, will welcome Dr. Lester A. Crose, who has been involved in Missions since 1919 when he went to Japan at the age of seven with his missionary parents, on Sunday, June 1.

Dr. Crose will speak at 9:30 a.m., 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

After living with his parents in Japan, he accompanied them to Syria. In 1933 at the age of 21, he was appointed missionary to Lebanon.

He later served as a missionary in Barbados, Trinidad, Lebanon and Egypt.

In 1954 Dr. Crose was appointed executive secretary-treasurer of the Missionary Board of the Church of God and has served in that capacity for 21 years.

WARD UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 17000 Farmington, Livonia, will host Caesar Molebatsi of Johannesburg, South Africa at its 7 p.m. vesper hour Sunday, June 1.

Molebatsi is a young African representing Youth Alive, a mission effort of Africa Evangelical Fellowship. The group tries to help African teens through its camps, clubs and its center.

These young people are establishing biblical patterns for marriage and have developed a Christian rationale to counter ancestor worship, materialism and racism.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, 100 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, has new first and second readers.

Richard A. Moore and Mrs. Pamela Krause Stopper will begin three-year terms as first and second readers Sunday, June 1.

Since Christian Science has no ordained clergy, local members are elected democratically to fill administrative posts and conduct services. The readers carry the main responsibility for the Sunday nd Wednesday evening services, their primary duty being to read the Christian Science lesson-sermon on Sunday.

Moore is production coordinator of Plymouth Stamping Co., while Mrs. Stopper is a teacher of dance and recreational swimming in Northville.

GARDEN CITY CHURCH OF CHRIST, 1657 Middle Belt, will sponsor talks by six speakers from six different congregations of the Church of Christ from June 1-4.

Stanley Day of Angola, a graduate of Michigan Christian College, will speak Sunday, June 1 at 10 a.m.

He will be followed at 11 a.m. by Norman Herron of La Grange, Ind., who graduated from Bentley High School in Livonia and, after entering the mission field, spent six years in Norway.

John Hooper of Holland, Mich. will present his talk at 6 p.m.

Monday services will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. by James Garrison of Mt. Pleasant, who is studying for his masters degree at Central Michigan University while also working for the congregation in Mt. Pleasant.

David Flatt will speak at the same hour on Tuesday and will be followed on Wednesday by Don Wright, who was raised in Farmington and Plymouth and attended Lawrence Institute of Technology. He now preaches in Lapeer.

These men serve as home missionaries for the Garden City Church of Christ.

EPIPHANY LUTHERAN CHURCH, 41390 Five Mile, Plymouth, will present a program of choir music during its services Sunday, June 1 at 10:30 a.m.

The Hope Church Community Choir of Detroit will present selections from a musical program it has performed on tour in Michigan and throughout the country.

A fellowship coffee hour will follow in honor of the choir and its director, James Harris.

LIVONIA WESLEYAN CHURCH, 14560 Merriman, Livonia, has invited the Rev. R.L. Goodman of Fort Myers, Fla., to speak in special services June 3 through June 8 at 7:30 p.m.

A former pastor of the Livonia Wesleyan Church, Rev. Goodman has been engaged in evangelistic work in recent years.

Music and singing for the services will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Chatfield of Columbus, Ohio.

Class reunions

The January and June classes of 1950 of Hazel Park High School will hold their 25th reunion Saturday, June 21 in Stevenson Club, Hazel Park. For further information contact Delores Wagner Landmesser, 5455 Wright, Troy.

★★★★★★★★★★★★

The class of 1950 of Chadsey High in Detroit will hold its 25th reunion Oct. 4.

Those interested in attending may contact Mrs. Michael Chirio, 14450 St. Marys, Detroit.

Dressing up is fun

especially when you get to show off at a mother- daughter banquet. Star attractions for the recent dinner in St. Matthew United Methodist Church in Livonia were Michelle Sweeney, former Livonian trying on her finery before a mirror, Kathleen Henderson of Ann Arbor, adjusting a grown-up hat and Sondra Cizewski of Redford Township, getting a last-minute assist from her mother, Mrs. George Cizewski. Landmark school

New era for local child-care center

By MARGARET MILLER

An era has ended in the white frame church-turned-schoolhouse that is a landmark on Farmington Road just south of Five Mile in Livonia, but its passing didn't interrupt the children's play there.

Mrs. Drianna Alli, owner and operator of the Livonia Little Tots Day Nursery for 16 years, has stepped out of the picture there and Mrs. Dorothy Root has stepped in.

And the school, which opened its doors in 1959 as the second day care center in this area, will continue its program, adding summer sessions for the first time this year. That plan was announced by Mrs. Root as she took over operation of the business she had purchased.

MRS. ALLI SPENT her final day with the youngsters as head of the operation early this month, but will return to visit when the ones who are ready for kindergarten graduate in June.

She plans to have surgery this summer and after that probably will assist her husband, Donald, in his wholesale grocery business.

"I'm sure I won't be able to sit at home," she said. "I've worked since I was 16."

The Allis came to this area because of the availability of the frame building, which in 1958 had been vacated by Bethany Baptist Church.

Mrs. Alli at that time has been in day care work for several years and figured this was a good area in which to start another center.

"I STARTED working in a nursery when my oldest child was little," she said. "I wanted to go back to work, but didn't want to leave her, so that kind of work seemed the thing to do."

She and small Diana went to the Northwest Day Nursery in Detroit, and after a few years of working there she bought the business from her employer.

Then when neighborhood changes indicated a new location, the Allis noticed the "For Sale" sign on the old church. The purchase was made, and after a year of remodeling the Little Tots center was in operation.

SINCE ITS INCEPTION, the nursery has had programs for children 2½ to five and has put emphasis on children's social development as well as learning things like ABCs and colors and skills like coloring and pasting.

"The children who come here are about evenly divided between those whose mother works and those who are brought for the socialization aspects," Mrs. Alli said.

She's noticed as change over her years at the nursery, though, and it's one she hates to see.

"The children don't seem to listen as well, and it's harder to teach them to be polite ," she said. "I wonder if parents are too busy now to take time with their children."

MRS. ALLI IS glad to be turning her work over to Mrs. Root, whom she described as "a lovely person."

"You have to have a feeling for children this age to work in this business, and she certainly has that feeling," she said.

The new director, who moved to Northville from Akron, Ohio, less than two years ago, first came to the Little Tots Nursery last fall as part of her child development studies at Madonna College.

The mother of three college students, she figures she's well schooled in working with children but thinks the bookkeeping needed in running a business is going to present quite a challenge.

She plans to implement the "learning centers" kind of program she has been studying. She also, besides instituting the summer program, wants to become licensed to accept school-age children, especially during vacation months.

Charges at the Little Tots Nursery vary according to the amount of time the child spends there. A full morning and afternoon is $37.50, including lunch, and the rate for a morning of play and lunch is $5.

Many schools, centers available

Now is the time of year to make the final decision on the best and most conveniently located nursery school or day care center for your child.

MRS. DANIEL DALE WELTON
(Renee Carol Gotro)

Grandfather officiates for nuptials

The bridegroom's grandfather was the officiating clergyman as Renee Carol Gotro and Daniel Dale Welton were united in marriage in the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene recently.

The Rev. W. O. Welton heard the vows spoken in an early evening ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gotro Jr. of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Welton of Plymouth.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory silk organza gown with a lace yoke and a band of lace at the hemline. She carried roses and white mums.

Teri Lynn Downing, as maid of honor, wore a jacket dress of hot pink polyester jersey. The bridesmaids, Tonni Burns, Terry Burns, Dona Ingland, Deborah Wasalaski, Diane Welton, Lori Dingeldey and Gail Powell, wore lighter pink dresses similarly styled.

All wore matching hats and carried pink candles.

The flower girls were Jennifer Sue Burns and Holly Lynn Yeager.

Darry Hamlin was best man and the ushers were Mark Bradford, David Welton, David Ingland, Terry Wasalaski, Duan Hamlin, Douglas Welton, Joe McMullen, Greg Hester, Ed Wall, Jesse Stevenson and Paul Witt.

A reception for 300 guests in Botsford Inn, Farmington Hills, followed the ceremony and the couple went to Gatlinburg, Tenn., for their honeymoon. They will live in Plymouth.

The bride graduated from South Lyon High School and is employed by Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. in Farmington Hills. The bridegroom, a Plymouth Salem High School graduate, works for R & B Manufacturing in Pinckney, Mich.

Woman on the GO!

Cookies, HRC top priority list

By MARGARET MILLER

How is a batch of chocolate chip cookies like the chairmanship of Livonia's Human Relations Commission?

The answer to that one is easy for Nancy Liddle, mother of three and current holder of that chairmanship.

Both, she says, are things she considers important enough to be worth her best effort.

That's why, besides being ready to turn out a mighty tasty pan of cookies, Nancy made herself available for appointment to the commission and last September accepted its chairmanship "because there are things that have to be done during the day and I felt I probably was the one who had that kind of time."

TOP PRIORITY RATING goes to a number of other elements in Nancy's life—like serving as a room mother for at least one child per school year, teaching a short-term sewing class, going camping with the family, performing as a clown.

But all took a back seat recently when Nancy, in her capacity as representative of the Livonia Human Relations Commission, testified at a civil rights hearing at Schoolcraft.

In that hearing, the Michigan Civil Rights Commission was considering Livonia's application for community block grant money and it was Nancy's job to outline her commission's thinking on how such federal funds could best be used.

"WE HAD DECIDED our top priority had to be more low and moderate cost housing," she said, "for senior citizens, of course, but for others as well.

"We also thought it extremely important to get aid in upgrading existing low-cost housing in the city. People worry when you talk about low-cost developments, yet there is a great deal that could be done to better housing out of what is here now.

Another point important to the commission is assurance that any contractors working with grant money should be equal opportunity employers.

"And after all those," Nancy said, "we think consideration should be given people who work in this city and might want to live here."

THIS CHAIRMAN sees the 15-member commission she heads as a "capable, responsible group" that can play a big part in making Livonia a better place to live.

"The fact that we exist says something about the attitudes of officials here.

"We've been called window dressing, and to a certain extent we are. But our being here probably keeps things from happening the way that a marked police car may keep drivers from speeding."

A few complaints, not the formal hearing type, have been handled by the commission.

"Mostly we've been able to talk to people and get things cleared up," Nancy said. In this category she mentioned the fellow who was mad at his neighbors and put up a for sale sign that read "Blacks Only," and the restaurant owner who refused to serve young men with long hair.

THE COMMISSION, she said, also functions as an education group.

"We've had a couple of essay contests and are putting together a film library where groups can get material on all kinds of human relations problems."

Discrimination that might exist against the young, the old, the handicapped also gets the attention of the commission. Under consideration is an amendment to the Livonia Human Relations ordinance that would specifically prohibit discrimination because of sex or age.

FOR NANCY LIDDLE, the decision to give a share of energy to the cause of better human relations in her community was one specifically thought-out.

Several years ago she learned she had multiple sclerosis, and so, "after crying and feeling sorry for myself for a while, I decided that I had to organize my life around the priorities of what is important to me."

For Nancy, this meant plenty of time for family doings with husband George, a math teacher at Redford Union High, sons Joe, 12, and John, 9, and daughter Beth, 7.

"We're great do-it-yourselfers. We built an addition for the house, and we do our upholstering and like camping trips—we're going out west this summer."

Her priority list then brought in things personally important— time to sew her own clothes and those for her children and to take some college courses and learn to crochet.

"But it also was important to contribute to the community in some way, to be where the action is," she went on. "And in that regard I decided I would have to pick just one major thing and do it as well as I could."

THAT DECISION has led her at this stage of her life to the Human Relations Commission.

In the past it's been activities like involvement in a cooperative nursery, classes at Eastern Michigan University— "where I discovered I wasn't as rusty as I had thought"— and teaching a class of people aiming for a General Education Development (GED) certificate.

Nancy realizes reassessments may be necessary—"what's important today won't always be the top priority." She's thinking that somewhere down the road she'd like to work with a group of local women who offer a friendly hand to lifers and long-termers in the Detroit House of Correction, and maybe later she will be able to visit children in hospitals in her clown get-up more often.

But for the moment Livonia's human relations considerations get star billing with the Liddle clan. And Nancy is determined to keep up her effort to "do the best job I can."

The Alfa Romeo doesn't cost $12,000. It's just built that way.

The Alfa Romeo Spider Veloce convertible.

You might have admired it. For its Pininfarina styling. Its race-refined engineering. Its eager double overhead cam aluminum engine.

And you might have thought that a machine built like this one must cost around $12,000.

Now, take another look.

Because the price is not $12,000. It's a sensible $6,820

Even more sensible when you consider the latest Motor Trend magazine test that reports an Alfa Spider got 29.2 mpg (a tribute to the efficiency of our fuel injection system). How much you get depends on how you drive.

The Spider also gives you four-wheel disc brakes. A five-speed gearbox. Cast magnesium wheels. Limited-slip differential. A sense of handling you've never experienced before.

And these luxury extras as standard: fully instrumented console. Radial tires. Polished wood steering wheel.

The Alfa Romeo is a direct descendant of the legendary Alfa racers.

Today, it's never made so much sense for the road.

Test drive one this week.
At your dealer.

$6,820

Why drive a car when you can drive a legend? Alfa Romeo

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price P.O.E. East Coast. West Coast $69.00 higher. Options, destination charges, dealer preparation charges, state and local taxes not included. +Option: $145.00.

WHODUNIT?

The sofa, the chair, the stove and the dresses . . . all sold in a single day. Who could have gotten away with it? It's really not such a mystery. Every clue points to the Observer & Eccentric Classifieds: the quick response, the number of calls, and most important, the results-SALES.

Consider the opportunity . . . the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers are read twice each week by more than 155,500 families in Wayne and Oakland Counties --families next door to you and in neighboring communities.

Consider the motive . . . the Observer & Eccentric Want Ad Department has a strong desire to satisfy your needs, whether you're selling a couch or looking for a job.

Consider the weapon . . . the Observer & Eccentric Family Want Ads have a double edge because they're placed in two consecutive issues (Monday/Thursday or Thursday/Monday) and are seen each time by more than 155,500 witnesses. And these Family Want Ads (no changes in copy, no cancellations) cost only $6 --that's a savings to you of $2 off the regular cost of placing an ad in two issues.

It's a modus operandi that is well known and makes the solution to this case elementary.
